UNSUCCESSFUL ESCAPE ATTEMPT—Before making a break this morning by threatening a jailer, county jail prisoners Ronald Harold Berg and Lewis Barton

Pettijohn Jr. apparently tried to batter their way out of the jail. Asst. Chief Jailer Robert Scheiner examines damage around food pass-through window from kitchen.

Armed Marin Jail Escapers Captured In Sleepy Hollow

Police Trap Rescues Father Held Hostage

By ROBERT STREBEIGH

Two prisoners, who threatened Marin County Jail attendants with steel clubs to make a daring break at 5:45 a.m. today, were recaptured five and three-quarter hours later as they drove away from a Sleepy Hollow home with a hostage.

The hostage — Arthur Jorgensen, 41-year-old general contractor was rescued by fast-moving sheriff's officers and police who acted with split-second timing to halt the car just as it emerged from Fawn Drive onto Butterfield Road.

Officers leaped into the car to wrestle down and capture the escapees, Ronald Harold Berg, 21, of San Francisco, and Lewis Barton Pettijohn Jr., 33-year-old transient.

The pair had escaped from jail after threatening attendants with clubs made from the twisted iron legs of a chair. They had kidnapped a taxi driver, abandoned his cab in Terra Linda, and made their way over the hill to Sleepy Hollow. There, they held the Jorgensen family hostage throughout a morning of terror.

As the white getaway car, with Jorgensen at the wheel emerged from Fawn Drive, the officers closed in. The car had been watched from a hilltop stakeout as it moved from the Jorgensen home down Fawn Drive, with its progress reported to waiting officers below by radio.

More than 100 officers from the sheriff's department and San Rafael, San Anselmo and Fairfax police forces participated in the dragnet which captured the two.

Leaping into the car to grab the escapees were Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, San Anselmo Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani, Fairfax Police Chief James Orr, and Sheriff's Inspector A. V. Menjou.

WIFE REPORTS

The information that led to the arrest was given by Mrs. Jorgensen in a frightened but fruitful call to the sheriff's office after the escapees released her briefly to allow her to see whether police cars were in the vicinity.

They held her husband and son, Larry, 17, at gunpoint—with the son's own .22 caliber rifle—as she left in the car to make the check.

Instead, she drove to Smilin' Ed Woods' Service Station at Butterfield Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo, phoned the sheriff's office that "two men are holding my husband and son hostage," and gave the address. Then she returned.

Lawmen quickly surrounded the area, but waited to move in lest gunplay follow.

HOSTAGE SHAKEN

As the car reached Butterfield Road, they moved. Jorgensen leaped out of the vehicle. Within seconds, officers had overpowered the two felons in the back seat.

A shaking Jorgensen told the officers that the men came to his house at 6:50 a.m. and said

Gunman-Robber Teams Up With Quiet Check Artist

By ROSS DAVIS

RONALD HAROLD BERG The "heavy"

LEWIS B. PETTIJOHN Mentally unstable

The two escapees from Marin County jail couldn't be a more unlikely team, physically or by criminal record.

Ronald Harold Berg, 21, is known as a "heavy," a man who allegedly carries heavy artillery and launched a bold hold-up siege of restaurants and motels in Marin and San Francisco counties.

BLINKS, SQUINTS

He is over six feet tall, weighs about 185 pounds, and despite having a boyish face, is usually scowling. He has a mild eye affliction causing him to blink and occasionally squint.

His fellow fugitive, Lewis Barton Pettijohn, is a mild-appearing, swarthy little 33-year-old, five feet six inches tall, who has a record only of writing worthless checks.

He is mentally unstable, once attempted to hang himself, and has been a patient in two state mental hospitals.

PENDING TRIAL

Berg, who was re-arrested in San Francisco after jumping earlier bail in Marin County, has been in county jail in lieu of $19,250 bail pending a jury trial scheduled for next Tuesday.

He is accused of the Aug. 17 armed robbery of Edgewater Inn Motel, Corte Madera, in which $1,000 was taken from clerk Milo Johnson and a guest. He also faces concealed weapons charges.

Berg and a companion, Michael R. Colvard, 21, were caught by Fairfax police July 3 in a car in which the officers found two loaded .45-caliber clips, three loaded Army .45-caliber automatic pistols, a German Luger, and another automatic weapon.

ONE PERSON

Officers said after Berg and Colvard were arrested, Berg learned that Colvard's relatives had only enough money to make bail for one person. He talked them into making his $2,750 bail, on the promise that he could raise enough money to make Colvard's bail, and was released.

He jumped the bail. On Aug. 21, two men identified as Donald Jacob Jolson and Michael Honack, 18, were arrested by San Francisco police on suspicion of robbery. "Jolson" turned out to be Berg. Police said the pair had money

Viet Weather Permits More Bombing Raids

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. Navy and Air Force planes stepped up the pace of their bombing raids with a series of crippling attacks on missile launching and supply sites near three of North Viet Nam's principal cities, military spokesmen said today.

U.S. officials reported that one Air Force plane with two men aboard was downed by Communist gunfire in the 59 bombing missions yesterday against strategic targets near Hanoi, Haiphong and Dien Bien Phu, as the weather improved.

BEAR BRUNT

U.S. Marines bore the brunt of the major ground action yesterday, and killed at least 36 enemy troops in scattered engagements. There were no major clashes reported in either Operation Attleboro or Operation Paul Revere IV—the two U.S. infantry maneuvers which together have left more than 1,800 enemy dead.

U.S. spokesmen said, however, that an American Special Forces camp and a 1st Infantry Division site in the Attleboro battle area northwest of Saigon received about 20 rounds of Communist mortar fire last night. U.S. casualties were described as light.

FORMAL PROTEST

Meanwhile Communist North Viet Nam has formally protested alleged American atrocities to the International Control Commission, the North Vietnamese news agency said today.

The dispatch accused the United States Army of having killed 14 civilians November 15 in Cam Huong village.

It also said that September 21 and 23 American troops raided Cam Hai village, killing 17 persons on the spot, including a woman who was buried alive.

"On September 13, U.S. planes dropped hundreds of napalm bombs on Dien Phuoc and Dien Van villages."

October Living Cost Hike Outpaces Factory Checks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose four-tenths of one per cent last month as virtually all consumer goods and services except food increased in price, the Labor Department reported today.

Retail food prices went down two-tenths of one per cent, but costs continued up for housing, clothing, medical care, automobiles and many other items measured by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The October increase, the ninth straight monthly rise, brought the index up to 114.5, meaning it cost $11.45 last month to purchase items worth $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

The bureau also reported that after-tax earnings of some 15 million factory workers rose 11 cents a week to $92.72 for single workers and to $100.65 for workers with three dependents — but they lost 20 cents a week in purchasing power because of the continuing price hikes.

Commissioner Arthur M. Ross, asked whether the long upward spiral of prices could be described as inflationary, said, "Obviously it's more than we like to see."

Prices measured by the government in the consumer price index were 3.7 per cent higher over-all than a year ago, continuing the steepest climb in nine years.

Ross said if prices follow last year's November and December pattern, living costs over 1966 will average out to 3.7 per cent higher than those in 1965.

Reporting on a special study to see if higher auto prices reflected increased value of new 1967 models, Ross said most of the price increase was due to new safety equipment and extended warranties on new cars.

He said average retail prices of 1967 models were $55 higher than last year's new models, but all but about $6 was due to improved quality.

THANKSGIVING TO BE HOLIDAY EXCEPT AT I-J

Stores, public offices and schools will close tomorrow for celebration of Thanksgiving Day.

Schools in Marin will start a four-day holiday.

There will be no mail delivery. Parking meters will not operate, except in Sausalito where they operate 365 days a year.

The Independent-Journal will publish, but not quite as usual. It will be bigger than usual, with a special Christmas gift edition to inaugurate the Christmas shopping season.

Board Orders Adoptions Functioning

By PAT PERRY

Marin county's adoption agency will start taking in county children relinquished for adoption immediately, the first time intake has been open since June 1.

The county board of supervisors yesterday ordered relinquishments opened, after more than an hour's discussion of the county's adoption program before a capacity audience including many adoptive parents.

The board gave Betty Presley, director of the county social services department, authority to adjust child intake, and home intake "to maintain reasonable balance," and to report to the board in advance of public concern.

Supervisors concurred with a recommendation by County Administrator Alan Bruce, to "authorize and encourage vigorous attempts to improve the program."

Controversy over the county's two-year-old adoption agency's performance began earlier when prospective adoptive parents complained there were no children available for adoption.

A report prepared by Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella, read to the audience, detailed complaints he'd investigated from six applicant families and concluded: "It is particularly surprising that no complaints have been received from families which have been disapproved, although 53 out of

COURTHOUSE CRISIS SOLUTION OFFERED

Under Proposal, City Would Trade Land Between Francisco And San Rafael Canal

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The San Rafael City Council last night came up with a proposed solution to the county's problem of what to do with the courthouse square.

The proposal, agreed to by all five council members: swap it to the city for part of the eight acres the city owns between Francisco Boulevard and the San Rafael Canal.

This, declared Councilman Louis H. Baar, who made the suggestion, would give the county readily salable land, inexpensive to develop, with which to help finance its Hall of Justice.

The city would hold the courthouse square as open space, with or without the present buildings, until such time as an acceptable offer for development was made, and could then install underground parking. Or, it might install the parking while keeping the land as a downtown park.

The pressure for immediate sale of the courthouse square would be removed. There would be no need for the city to obligate itself for expensive underground parking which is not yet required.

Baar's proposal was for city and county to each have the Francisco Boulevard property and the courthouse property appraised. A swap would then be made on the basis of the appraisals. Councilmen felt this would leave the city with enough land along the canal for its corporation yard.

Aside from the corporation yard, most of the city's canal-Francisco acreage is leased out under short-term leases, with quick cancellation clauses. Long-term leases were halted when the city council several years ago thought it would be necessary.

Chief Overcome In $15,000 Sausalito Apartment Blaze

Fire and thick black smoke throughout a three-story apartment building in Sausalito yesterday caused damage estimated at $15,000.

Fire Chief Charles E. Masten was overcome by smoke and held overnight for observation at Marin General Hospital.

Twenty firemen from three fire engines fought the stubborn blaze at 503 Easterby Street almost four hours before it was completely extinguished. All firemen suffered minor smoke inhalation, despite smoke masks.

Stella Y. Popowski, an artist living in the top floor apartment, reported the fire at 12:47 p.m. to a telephone operator, who relayed the alarm to firemen. She then made her way out a rear door as the smoke billowed into her apartment through a heat register.

Lt. Evander L. Johnakin Jr., stationed at Mill Valley Fire Force station, got out of his apartment on the second floor as smoke filled his room, too. The ground floor apartment was unoccupied, but firemen found a Siamese cat asphyxiated in the apartment.

The stuccoed, wood frame building is owned by Terry Deluc.

The fire started in the basement, and firemen had to use chain saws to cut through the walls and floors as it burned up to the roof. Cause of the fire remained under investigation today.

Several firemen stayed on the scene until midnight to be sure that the blaze was out.

Reagan Names Senate Liaison

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Faced with Democratic majorities in each house, Republican Governor-elect Ronald Reagan has broken custom and decided to appoint a liaison man for both the Senate and Assembly.

Reagan made the announcement yesterday at the same time he named popular Sen. Vernon L. Sturgeon as his legislative contact with the Senate. A similar liaison position between the governor's office and the Assembly will be filled soon, he added.

In the past, governors generally have named just one legislative secretary to coordinate relations with legislators. The vital job involves rounding up votes for administration programs, heading off trouble from recalcitrant lawmakers of the same party, getting sponsors for a governor's bills and touching bases with the opposition party.

Frank Mesple, legislative secretary to outgoing Democratic Gov. Edmond G. Brown, is paid $20,000 and Sturgeon presumably will get that. That's a sizable pay boost from the $6,000 base pay he receives now as a legislator, and more than the annual $16,000 lawmakers will start getting Jan. 1 with passage of Prop. 1-a Nov. 8.

Philip M. Battaglia, Reagan's executive secretary, said the plan for two legislative contacts "is consistent with the new governor's philosophy of working as closely with the legislature as possible."

Although Republicans made substantial gains at the last election, they still are a minority in the legislative chambers. Democrats control the Assembly 42-38 and the Senate 21-19.

Sturgeon, a 51-year-old milk distributor from Paso Robles, served six years before the 1965 reapportionment dumped him into an expanded district that also included fellow GOP Sen. Donald L. Grunsky of Watsonville. They clashed in the June primary for political survival, and Grunsky — from the more populous part of the district — beat Sturgeon.

However, it was expected Reagan would find a spot for Sturgeon in his administration. Sturgeon was an early appointee to the GOP candidate's staff, and traveled extensively with him during the campaign.

Reagan pointed out that Sturgeon is well liked and respected by other legislators. His appointment also added to the middle-of-the-road image Reagan is trying to build for his administration, since Sturgeon was regarded as a moderate inclined to be a peacemaker among opposing factions on various issues.

Reagan commented that "Vern was of inestimable help to us during the general election campaign because of his broad knowledge of legislation and state affairs... I know his decision to accept this vital post will make easier and smoother our efforts to translate the proposals of the creative society into meaningful legislation."

Bombings Peace Key: Gen. Taylor

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, holding that the bombing of North Viet Nam gives the United States blue chips for any peace talks, warns "don't pay a blue chip by giving up the bombing to get negotiations started."

He called for a "clear eye and a hard-nosed policy" in any approach to negotiations.

"We should come out not only with our shirt, but with a free and independent South Viet Nam," the retired general said.

Taylor, a special adviser to President Johnson and former ambassador to South Viet Nam, spoke last night at a dinner of the Manufacturing Chemists Assn. The air attacks on the north has given a "great morale boost" to the Saigon government and has "immobilized" 200,000 to 300,000 North Vietnamese, the general said.

Abandonment of the bombing of the north "would have a tremendous negative effect on South Viet Nam and they might possibly quit fighting," he declared.

Taylor said ground action is going increasingly well as a result of more troops and "for the first time we are putting a brake on the expansion of the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong."

Hub Shouting Session Over Bar's Music

By CAROL MARSH

The noise at MacArthur's Bar produced a noisy session of the San Anselmo City Council last night.

More than once, it degenerated into a shouting match between councilmen and members of the audience.

At one point a man in the audience accused Councilman Woodrow V. Capurro of voting to favor his brother-in-law.

The upshot was that the council voted to let a two-piece band play Friday and Saturday at the bar at 218 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard so councilmen can personally check on whether its music is a nuisance.

Complaints about noise from the music in the bar began four council meetings ago, and have continued despite efforts of the proprietor, Donald MacArthur, to soundproof the building.

ANOTHER CHANCE

Last council meeting, the city fathers told MacArthur to stop using the band. Last night, attorney Hadden Roth pleaded successfully for one more try.

His success, however, came only after a shout-down argument.

Roth presented a petition which he said contained 207 signatures, protesting the discontinuance of the music.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith looked the petition over and noted, "three of these signatures give addresses in Chicago, Ill."

"There are a lot from San Anselmo, too," noted City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt.

A man in the audience said he had worked with sound engineers, and "once a complaint has been made, it's impossible to satisfy the person who made it."

CITIZENS BOO

Lincoln Park residents sitting across the room started booing before the man had stopped talking.

Mayor John M. Reichmuth banged his gavel and said angrily, "He has a right to speak." "I believe a man has a right to make a living," Councilman Capurro began.

As a man in the audience started trying to shout him out, Capurro, shouting, moved to let MacArthur's use the band Friday and Saturday nights, so the council could check the noise.

The man was still shouting. Reichmuth banged his gavel again. But the man shouted over the gavel, "I can see why you're so anxious to defend your brother-in-law's right to run his business." By then, Mayor Reichmuth was shouting too. Capurro's motion was passed amid hubbub.

Capurro said after the meeting that his brother-in-law, Ray Cerutti, is part owner of the building in which MacArthur's is located.

LBJ LAUDS GEMINI AS STEP TO MOON

Spacewalker Describes Glowing Gloves; Johnson Passes Out Medals In Ranch Rite

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, marking the end of the Gemini space program, predicted today still greater U.S. successes in space including the Apollo man-on-the-moon program.

In his first formal speech since his twin operations a week ago, Johnson said, "Gemini has prepared well, for the more ambitious Apollo flights to come."

Johnson spoke at a ceremony at the LBJ Ranch in which the Gemini 12 astronauts, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., received the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Exceptional Service Award from him.

Eight other persons prominently connected with the Gemini program also received NASA awards.

Johnson said he was especially proud that "our program has been carried out openly," with millions of people around the world watching on television as the Titan rockets took the astronauts skyward.

Later, the President met with advisers on the Western European troop level question. They were his first official visitors since he flew to his Texas ranch last Saturday.

Earlier Gemini 12's champion spacewalker revealed today he saw a strange phenomenon while working outside his spacecraft: Rubbing his fingers together sparked a faint glow.

"I noticed the peculiar thing during the night pass," Air Force Maj. Edwin E. (Buzz) Aldrin Jr. told a news conference. "I think it's something we should look at."

Aldrin, who teamed with Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. for the four-day Gemini 12 flight that rang down the curtain on America's Project Gemini, had no explanation for what it might be.

Lovell said the two men had a brief period of disappointment shortly after they got into space and were chasing an Agena rocket for a rendezvous, and radar failed.

"For a minute we just looked at each other and said: 'Ah, it couldn't happen to us,'" Lovell said.

So, the two pilots resorted to their visual means of catching the fleeting target while not using the radar—something never done on a Gemini flight.

Aldrin's sojourns, highlighted by a stroll lasting 2 hours and 9 minutes, proved that by resting frequently and using proper restraint equipment, man can do meaningful work outside his capsule. Aldrin did not encounter the fatigue problems strollers before him met.

To do a series of seemingly innocuous tasks like hooking little rings to little hooks, Aldrin investigated the use of waist straps and restraint boots called "golden slippers."

Lovell and Aldrin captured man's first pictures of a total solar eclipse from space — a feat that took split-second timing while dashing around the world 17,500 miles an hour.

Lagunitas District To Try Bonds Again

Lagunitas School District Board voted last night to place its thrice-defeated bond issue and state loan request for a new school before voters again Feb. 14.

The board said the bond issue would be increased from $240,000 to $250,000 and the loan request shaved from $300,000 to $290,000.

Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff said the bond hike is necessary to offset a possible increase in the assessed valuation next year. In case the tax rate does rise, he said, the district still wants to be bonded to capacity to qualify for the state funds.

The proposals were most recently defeated Nov. 8, failing to gain the required two-thirds majority. They also were beaten in February and June.

The district wants to construct a new school near the site of the present one off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Pending approval of county counsel, the board also adopted a policy governing the questioning of pupils by sheriff's deputies without parental consent.

The policy, drawn by trustee William G. McBride, asks that deputies conduct the interrogation outside of school, if possible; insures the presence of a member of the school staff during questioning, and requests that a report of the questioning be sent to the parents.

McCunniff hoped the county counsel's opinion of the policy would be available at the next board meeting Dec. 6.

The Lagunitas School District Board Also:

1. Compiled and held for further study a list of duties for the new position of vice principal, which is held by Harry Roche.

2. Hired Mrs. Margaret Dunlap of San Geronimo to replace Mrs. Jacqueline Jensen as noon-time playground supervisor at $2.50 an hour.

3. Approved payroll deductions for tax-free annuities for teachers, pending review by county counsel.

4. Heard Maxine Cantrell, reading specialist, on plans for testing upgraded pupils.

More High School Grads College Bound

Nearly 73 per cent of San Rafael High School District graduates went on to "some form of higher education" last year, according to Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat.

"It had been 60-65 per cent, but in 1964-65, it jumped close to 73 per cent," he told the San Rafael Board of Education last night.

The dropout rate is two to three per cent, he said.

Voydat's comments were in a report to the board on curriculum for students who are not headed for college.

Jerald Gill, vocational education coordinator, reported that 65 students participated in the work-study program, attending school part-time and working part-time.

"These students are not necessarily non-college students," he said.

Frank A. Stocking, principal of Terra Linda High School, and Alan Ellsberg, principal of San Rafael High School, explained that non-college students take the required academic courses and have a selection of vocational courses.

The board also received a report that 900 students completed summer school in the San Rafael High School District, 400 at San Rafael High School and 590 at Terra Linda High School. Robert R. Royle, assistant principal of Terra Linda High, and Angelo Colombo, dean of boys at San Rafael High, recommended that a six-week summer session would be better than seven weeks for most classes.

Voydat reported the high school summer session cost $33,720, but state reimbursements totaled $29,325, so the cost to the San Rafael City Schools was $4,395.

The board approved two federally funded programs by a 3-1 vote, with Mrs. Anita C. Strom dissenting. Walter R. Castro Jr. was absent.

One project will provide $18,950 for personnel and equipment for instruction of the "educationally disadvantaged" pupils. The other will provide $3,237 for textbooks and other instructional materials for all grades.

The board also approved temporary structural improvements to Short School, which does not meet the state's earthquake safety standards, at a cost of from $400 to $450.

Board members sent a letter of appreciation to Peter Camporelli, who resigned, effective Nov. 30, as custodian at San Rafael High School after 17 years of service to the district.

The San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

1. Called for bids on construction of a six-classroom addition to Coleman School, to be opened at 10 a.m. Dec. 22, and scheduled a special board meeting at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 22 to award the contract.
2. Approved the replacement of driver training equipment at a cost of $3,000 and transferred funds from the undistributed reserves to cover the purchases.
3. Hired Mrs. Lynn Dal Pogetto as primary grades teacher, elementary district, at $7,221 a year; Mrs. Patricia Mazzini, nurse, high school district, $4,795; Stephen Fineman, substitute custodian, $2.31 an hour; Mrs. Thelma George, teacher aide, Terra Linda High School, part-time, $445 a year; Mathilde Killian, home instructor, high school district, $6 an hour; Pete Minton, substitute custodian, $2.31 an hour; Mrs. Lois Olive, driver, $2 a year; Stanley Rouse, substitute bus driver, $2.31 an hour; Santo Tringali, custodian, Terra Linda High School, $4,800 a year; Jerry Wolf, driver, $1,440 a year; George Wolf, custodian, Bahia Vista School, part-time, $2,400 a year; Mrs. Pearl Starling, substitute bus driver, $2.31 an hour; Joseph Knighten, custodian, San Rafael High School, $5,100 a year, and Jesse Trout, maintenance mechanic, $6,100 a year.
4. Accepted resignations of Mrs. Theila Banta, English-social studies teacher, Davidson Junior High School, Mrs. Audrey Kidd, science teacher, San Rafael High School, and Mrs. Joyce Westover, teacher of second grade, Glenwood School, all effective Jan. 2, and all because of maternity. Peter Camporelli, custodian, San Rafael High School, effective Nov. 30; Mrs. Patricia Simmons, girls' physical education teacher, Terra Linda High School, effective Dec. 5; William Hancock, custodian, San Rafael High School, and Mrs. Suzanne Hellwig, teacher aide, Terra Linda High School.
6. Leased surplus school property at Third and E Streets to Fox and Carskadon, real estate brokers, the lone bidder, for 18 months at $100 a month.
7. Supported the Marin County Board of Education's stand that the California School Boards Assn. should revise its voting procedure to provide proportional representation of school districts rather than the present "one district-one vote" method.
8. Granted the City of San Rafael an easement to a storm drain on Sun Valley School grounds.
9. Named Board Members Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. and Herman L. Childress to meet with the salary committee of Local 1077, Marin County Federation of Teachers, and Board Member Anita C. Strom to meet with the salary committee Chapter 341, California School Employees Assn.
10. Accepted as gifts, $300 from the Glenwood School Parent-Teacher Assn. and a copying machine from the Laurel Dell School Parent-Teacher Assn.
11. Adopted the following textbooks: "Southeast Asia Today and Tomorrow" by Richard Butler; "The Arabs: A Short History" by Philip K. Hitti; "The Asians" by Thomas Welty, and "Applied Economics" by Arthur R. Olsen. John W. Kennedy and James Harvey Dodd.
12. Proposed for adoption "Business English and Communication" by Stewart, Hutchinson, Lanham and Zimmer.
13. Voted to cancel the scheduled Dec. 27 meeting, set Dec. 15 for an organizational meeting of a citizens committee on school finance and educational facilities, which board members will attend. The next regular board meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 13 at the Administration Building, Third and E Streets.

School Study On Outside Fund Drives

The San Rafael Board of Education is going to study the practice of outside organizations conducting campaigns in the schools.

The question arose when the board received a request from Mrs. Walter Johnson and Mrs. Edna Hammond of the Marin Chapter of the March of Dimes to conduct the March of Dimes program in the schools.

"How can we say 'yes' to the March of Dimes and 'no' to the Heart Assn.?" asked Board Member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. "We should have a policy." Asting Supt. William C. Jordan said, "There was a list at one time, but no one can find it."

The board postponed action on the March of Dimes request and asked for further search for the missing list.

Kramer said he got telephone calls about the use of schools before Halloween for distribution of UNICEF materials. "There was a great deal of confusion," he said.

There were no collections for UNICEF at the schools, just distribution of materials, Jordan said.

The March of Dimes and American Red Cross programs have been traditional, Jordan contended.

Morals Charge Plea Changed

Change of plea to guilty to attempting an unnatural act on a fellow inmate in county jail was entered in Marin Superior Court yesterday by John Richard Doyle, 27.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson suspended further criminal proceedings and ordered Doyle, of Daly City, to spend 60 days at California Rehabilitation Center at Corona.

Doyle and Roger Justin Reclus, 22, were scheduled for jury trial last Monday on the joint charge, which alleged an act last July 3, but indicated the plea changes.

Reclus, however, failed to appear yesterday. A bench warrant for his arrest was issued and new bail set at $2,500. He resides at 919 Scott Street, Novato.

'AUNT ALICE' FLIPPED

Alice Parsons has mastered the fine art of high jumping. Yesterday she leaped the four-foot fence around her pool at Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael and took off to visit neighbors: the delivery men at United Parcel Service's depot next door. It took awhile to win the winsome sea lion from under a truck and back to the museum. Fish did the trick.

Humane Society Offers Reward For Pet-Nappers

Directors of Humane Society of Marin yesterday posted a reward of $100 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of animal thieves operating in the county.

A gang, which steals pets and sells them for medical research, has been reported operating in the county. The thieves use a truck labeled Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, but there is no SPCA in Marin.

Gathering in their annual meeting at society headquarters, San Rafael, the directors re-elected to the board Jordan L. Martinelli Jr., Walter R. Castro Jr., Jack Greene, Robert Cary, Mrs. Evelyn B. Levy, J. B. Rice, William Waste, and Minthorne Tompkins.

New directors named were Robert B. Dixon and David Freitas, while Harold L. Elberg was elected to fill the unexpired term of the late Paul Leahy.

Fred B. Kerr was re-elected president, Martinelli was chosen vice president, and Richard P. Gatterdam was named treasurer.

Clerk Exams Slated

The Merit System Examining Agency, State Department of Social Welfare, plans a test for clerk in Marin County Dec. 17. Test sites will be announced. Applications may be obtained from the county welfare department or the examining agency in Sacramento.

Rec Board's Bookkeeping Criticized

Directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District today were admonished to tighten up handling of district warrants.

In an audit for fiscal 1966 compiled by the county auditor-controller's office it was revealed that a total of $19,752 in warrants were paid without any approval of the payment reflected in the minutes of board meetings.

The annual audit also urged directors to try to build reserves so that borrowing from the county treasury to carry the district until tax time will no longer be necessary. The district borrowed $19,000 last fiscal year and has borrowed $20,000 this year.

Asst. County Auditor-Controller George Donaldson said there is nothing legally wrong with the procedure, many several school districts are forced to do it.

The audit notes that no payment was made last fiscal year on $1,960 still owed on a 1962 loan from the Terra Linda Community Services District.

The audit also said that some expenditures, normally classified as capital outlay, had been put on an expense account, that the petty cash fund had been budgeted as an expense account and that $122 in payroll warrants were left in an unlocked file drawer.

Car Clout Reported

Fred H. Thiede, 22 Heuter Lane, Mill Valley, reported to police yesterday that a rear view mirror and radio antenna were stolen Monday night from his car while it was parked outside his garage.

Superintendent's Salary: $23,750

The San Rafael Board of Education last night officially set the salary of John F. Plank, new superintendent of San Rafael City Schools, at $23,750.

Board President Carl J. Brown reported that he negotiated with Plank, superintendent of Alvorad Unified School District in Riverside County, after the board agreed in closed session to a salary range of $23,000 to $24,500.

Plank, who will take the post Feb. 1, will receive $3,750 a year more than the man he replaces, Bert C. Corona, who was paid $20,000 a year when he left in June. Corona accepted a superintendency in Modesto at $22,000.

The board also agreed to pay Asst. Supt. William C. Jordan an extra $500 a month for serving as acting superintendent. Jordan's salary is $18,600 per year.

Jordan will receive the additional pay retroactive to July 1 when he became acting superintendent, and until Plank takes over the duties.

Board members noted that besides assuming the extra work, Jordan gave up part of his vacation time and a summer workshop project, from which he would have had earnings.

The board postponed consideration of adopting an alternate salary schedule for teachers, $5,600 to $12,256 instead of the present $5,600 to $12,080.

Changing the schedule would cost an additional $50,000 in salaries, about $25,000 in the elementary district and $25,000 in the high school district, according to Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte.

Earlier this year the board said it would give consideration to the alternate salary schedule after the 1966-67 income had been determined.

Condrotte reported income in the elementary district is down about 1.7 per cent, that in the high school district down about $13,000.

Board Member Herman L. Childress said reserves in both districts are "dangerously low." Board members decided to review the income situation again in January.

Discussion of hiring a consultant on negotiations was postponed until Plank can attend a meeting, possibly in December.

Board members called for an organizational meeting of a citizens finance committee at the district office, Third and E Streets, at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 15.

They also approved the items to be studied by the committee.

Marijuana Case Jail Term Set

Michael Tauer, 18, of 53 Meadow Drive, Alto, was sentenced to a total of 120 days in county jail Monday in Marin Superior Court for possession of narcotics paraphernalia and for violating probation.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson gave him 90 days for narcotics paraphernalia possession charge following his guilty plea Oct. 17. The additional 30 days is for violation of probation on a second degree burglary conviction.

Tauer and two companions were arrested by sheriff's officers April 7.

Jailbreakers Nabbed; Hostage Trick Fails

their car had overturned and two girls were trapped in it. He admitted them.

One immediately grabbed a kitchen knife and threatened the Jorgensens. They were forced to turn over Larry's .22 rifle and provide clothing for the men. But after that, said Jorgensen, "they treated us very nice."

His wife, back in the home, was reported in a state of shock.

Berg and Pettijohn staged their jail break as Jailer Michael Hicks, Desk Sgt. Joseph Mooney and Matron Jeanne Wade were the only persons on duty at the county jail.

KIDNAP DRIVER

They escaped by hijacking a taxi parked just outside the jail and kidnapping its driver, Bruce Hall, 35, of Forest Knolls.

Forty minutes later they abandoned the cab at Lea and Esmeier drives in the Terra Linda addition to San Rafael, leaving Hall tied up but unharmed in the cab.

The escape followed futile attempts during the night to break out. Holes were later found gouged around a ventilator in one wall of Cell No. 1, which they occupied, but they were foiled by the ventilator pipe, according to Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos.

Other holes were found in the mess hall adjoining the cell. These had been dug around the food pass-through from the kitchen. Mountanos said the door from the cell to the mess hall had been left open to provide the nine prisoners a recreation area.

FINAL ESCAPE

The final escape began shortly after 5:25 a.m., when Hicks entered the main jail area to awaken prisoners for breakfast and let those on work furlough leave for jobs outside.

The last cell he opened was No. 1. He entered to rouse the nine men in it and make the regular morning head count. As he leaned over the lower bunk on his left, occupied by Pettijohn, he heard Berg leap over him from the bunk above.

Spinning around, he found Berg had armed himself with the tubular steel leg of a chair broken apart during the night.

According to Hicks, Berg said: "I don't want to hurt you, but I will, if I have to. Don't make any noise."

Hicks, a slender man of medium height, described the six-foot-two-inch Berg as "real nervous, shaking, in a cold sweat. There was beads of sweat on his forehead. He had a look that meant business."

Berg was quickly joined by Pettijohn, also armed with a steel chair leg.

QUIETLY WATCHING

With the other prisoners quietly watching, the two men forced Hicks to open the first gate into a foyer and then to knock on the outer steel door.

Mrs. Wade, responding to Hicks' rap on the door, opened the peephole but could not see the two men on either side of Hicks, their clubs poised above the jailer's head. She opened the door.

Hicks and the matron were forced backward into the lobby. At his desk in the adjoining room, Sergeant Mooney had just completed a phone call and was hanging up the receiver when Berg appeared, ordering him to join the other captives.

Mooney said he told Berg, "Don't be a damn fool. You know you can't get away with this."

A LOT OF TIME

Berg replied, "We don't have anything to lose. I'm gonna do a lot of time in the pen anyway."

Mooney, who does not wear a gun on duty, said he saw the clubs held over Hicks and Mrs. Wade and "knew they meant business." Mooney joined the others in the lobby.

Mooney said that even if he had had his gun, "I wouldn't have shot. It was too dangerous for the others."

After about 10 minutes of random searching and repeated threats failed to produce any guns, the two prisoners prepared to leave.

Pettijohn warned Mrs. Wade not to try anything. He said, "I've got nothing to lose."

The three were then forced into the nearby interrogation room and the door closed on them but not locked.

A moment later the men had disappeared, and Mooney was broadcasting an all-point alarm.

OUTSIDE JAIL

Waiting outside the jail was Hull in his Yellow Cab. Every weekday at about 6 a.m. the cab calls at the jail to take furlough prisoners to their jobs.

Hull said, "One of the men jumped into the front with me, the other got in back. Then they had me drive around."

SWAP

sary to sell some of the acreage to finance the new city hall.

The city hall, however, was paid for without selling the land or increasing the tax rate.

Baer's suggestion met almost instant approval, although with Councilmen Charley W. Aby, Fred E. Jensen and Harry A. Barber specifying that enough land should be retained for corporation yard use—one acre or more, Baer, who as a real estate broker is the council's expert on land values, said the value of the eight acres would certainly exceed that of the courthouse block enough to provide for such retention.

No one thought the county could realize the $340,000 necessary to complete financing of the Hall of Justice from sale of the land—but no one thought it could get that much from the courthouse square either.

Fred E. Enemark and Rex T. Silvernale of the committee on disposal of the courthouse square agreed that the canal property is much more readily salable.

The land swap was the second of two proposals for the courthouse square that won city council agreement at a special meeting with Enemark, Silvernale, Chamber of Commerce President Sig K. Herzog, and Richard Saffron of Stone and Youngberg, financial consultants.

Until Baer proposed the swap, the council was willing to go along with a suggestion by Dr. Aby that the city put on the ballot next April a proposal for a general obligation bond issue to buy the courthouse property, with all or a major part of it to be retained as a park.

Aby pointed out this would remove the need for action now on zoning the square or developing underground parking. He suggested the price should be negotiated in advance, and should be well below $340,000.

The meeting started off with Saffron explaining the financing proposal worked out for the county by Stone and Youngberg.

Under it, the county would transfer sub-surface rights to the city for $1 and the city would agree to install up to 369 underground parking spaces. This parking would make development of commercial structures feasible, said Saffron and Enemark.

Councilman Baer immediately raised a series of questions, of which the principal one was where the money would be raised to pay for the parking without a general tax levy.

Cost of financing the parking bonds over a 20-year period would be $130,000 per year, Saffron said. Councilman Aby pointed to a report by Jackson W. Faustman, parking consultant, showing the city would realize only $17,000 per year from 369 metered parking spaces.

Saffron admitted the underground garage would not be self-supporting. But he said "other benefits would be derived"—primarily in increasing sales tax and property tax revenues from the downtown district.

The county would get most of the increased property tax, pointed out Councilman Jensen.

Enemark and Silvernale insisted that "something must be done now" with the property. But when Baer put forward his proposal for a city take-over, they agreed this would be an ideal solution.

Councilman Aby, objecting that "there's a gun at our head," urged that if the city acquired the square there would be no pressure on either city or county. "We might be able to come to the point where there won't have to be any commercial development and we can keep it as a park," he suggested.

Mill Valley Crash Hurts Motorcyclist

A motorcyclist was injured yesterday at 4:35 p.m. when he rounded a blind curve on Morningsun Avenue in Mill Valley and collided with a car driven by Anne Marie Luise Faulhaber, 36, of 234 Green Street, Mill Valley, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Kenneth Marvin Theiss, 17, of 73 Morningsun Avenue, was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts and bruises on one knee.

North Koreans Fire Upon South Vessels

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI)—Communist North Koreans trained shore artillery south of the 38th Parallel armistice line and fired on three South Korean navy ships, the United Nations command charged today.

The U.N. officials said the South Korean patrol boats were off the east coast of Korea in the Sea of Japan when the North Korean opened fire yesterday with an estimated 40 shells. One of the ships received light damage, but no injuries were reported.

OBITUARIES

Alfred H. Fliegner Dies At 65

Alfred Henry Fliegner, 65, of Tamalpais Valley, died early today at a local hospital after a long illness.

Private funeral was held at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

A native of Hamburg, Germany, Fliegner emigrated to the United States in 1923. He lived in California for 39 years, the last 13 at 310 Tennessee Avenue, Tamalpais Valley.

A ship fitter, he retired in 1962 from San Francisco Naval Shipyard at Hunters Point. He was a member of the Nature Friends Club of San Francisco.

He is survived by his wife, Frieda Christine Fliegner, and a sister, Mrs. Hilda Sabel of Hamburg.

MRS. SAXTON

Mrs. Denver Marie Saxton, 65, a retired lock assembler, died yesterday in a Marin convalescent hospital after long illness.

Mrs. Saxton retired four years ago after 20 years as an assembler for Schlage Lock Co. She resided in San Francisco until entering Parkway Convalescent Hospital in San Rafael two years ago.

She was born in Norway but came to the United States when 2 years old. She had resided in San Francisco and Marin for 44 years.

Her husband, Jay A. Saxton, died in March, 1960. She leaves a daughter and son, Mrs. Marie May Guzzetti of Alameda and George C. Amans of San Rafael, five grandchildren, and several brothers and sisters.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. Friday at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

ELIZABETH CARTAMO

Mrs. Elizabeth Cartamo, a 58-year resident of Marin, died in a local hospital yesterday of a long illness.

Mrs. Cartamo was the wife of Louis Cartamo, retired Marin Municipal Water District employee of Carson Road, Woodacre. She was 76.

She was born in Germany, and came to California at the age of 12. She was a member of the women's auxiliary to the Fairfax Fire Department and Marin County Firemen's Assn.

She and her husband would have celebrated their golden wedding in January.

Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Delphine Barnes of Woodacre, and three grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9:30 a.m. Friday at St. Cecilia's Catholic Church in Woodacre, with the funeral cortege forming at 9 a.m. at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, where the Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today. Entombment will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. The family prefers that tributes be memorial gifts to the Marin County Cancer Society.

MRS. DRAPER

Funeral was held today for Mrs. Myrl Beverly Draper of Marinwood, who died Monday in a local hospital. Interment was at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Mrs. Draper, 40, who had been ill for several years, was taken to hospital by ambulance Monday and died before regaining consciousness. An autopsy showed she died of natural causes, said Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley.

Mrs. Draper had been a bookkeeper for several local employers in the last 20 years. A native of San Rafael, she had lived in Marin all her life. She was a member of the Church of the Nativity, Marinwood, and lived at 365 Ironstone Court, Marinwood.

She is survived by her son, William Draper, and her mother, Lulu J. Wade, both of San Rafael.

Party Donation Tax Could Change Politics

By JACK C. LANDAU
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — American taxpayers will be able to donate $1 of their federal taxes to help finance the 1968 presidential campaigns of the Democratic and Republican parties.

This controversial amendment to a "Christmas tree" tax bill, hastily passed on the last day of Congress, could turn out to be the most radical innovation in American politics since the advent of television.

If the plan operates as expected, each of the two major parties will receive about $30 million in federal funds for the 1968 campaign. Minor parties will receive nothing.

While critics are now claiming the plan is "unconstitutional," supporters, led by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., believe it will cure "the greatest evil in our free election system" of government.

"The man who must hustle large sums of money to run for high office, once he is elected, is not always 'free' to vote his own conscience... it is ironic to use the word free in connection with our elections," Long says.

But Socialist Party leader Norman Thomas said he will ask the U.S. Supreme Court to void the bill which he calls "outrageous," "shocking," and probably unconstitutional.

"I hope we don't have to go it alone," Thomas said, "because it's so expensive to take a case to the Supreme Court."

Earl H. Munn, Prohibition Party candidate for president in 1964, said he hoped the President wouldn't sign the bill. "If they want to be fair about it," he said, "they should give everybody a fair shake."

Arnold Petersen, national secretary of the Socialist Labor Party, issued a statement saying that the bill "will make it impossible for a minor party candidate to compete for the presidency."

The Conservative and Liberal parties have criticized the bill on the same grounds.

The main constitutional complaint centers on the discrimination against minor parties. The bill permits payments only to parties which have received more than 5 million votes in a prior presidential election.

The largest minor party vote in this century went to Robert M. LaFollette's Progressive Party in 1924 with 4.8 million. The next largest third party votes were in 1948 when the Dixiecrats and Henry Wallace's Progressive Party each captured 1.1 million.

Since the 5 million vote standard is an arbitrary number designed to disqualify third parties, Justice Department attorneys think they will be hard-pressed to explain why the cut-off shouldn't be 100,000 or 100 million.

The Supreme Court has ruled that the government cannot offer any advantage to a political party, in such areas as ballot preferences, permits for campaign meeting or election districts.

Furthermore, the constitution makes no distinction between established political groups with realistic platforms and small splinter parties with utopian right-wing or left-wing goals.

The new bill has few parallels in this country. Puerto Rico helps pay a candidate's expenses if his party polled 10 per cent or more of the votes in the prior election for governor.

Minnesota and California permit their taxpayers to deduct up to $100 for political donations from state tax returns.

This was the approach supported by President Johnson and the Treasury Department. The administration bill would have permitted a maximum $100 deduction which the taxpayer could donate to the political party of his choice.

But the Senate rejected the deduction theory on the grounds that it would favor the higher-income-bracket donor and would encourage splinter parties.

The Long bill was opposed by the Republican National Committee and supported by the AFL-CIO. However, the union complained:

"We believe that independent political groups have made major contributions to the political life of this nation, and that they have supplied energy and ideas sometimes lacking in the regular parties."

Commenting on the suggestion that minority groups should benefit, Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., answered: "It (collecting funds through tax benefits) would be easy to do by any organization, labor unions, Communist party, John Birch Society, Nazi Party... you could even have a committee for assassination of the president, almost."

The other legal problem was pointed up by Petersen when he said that, under the bill, minor party and non-party taxpayers would pay more to support the government than a Democratic or Republican party taxpayer.

This is because the bill permits a taxpayer to voluntarily divert $1 of his taxes to the campaign fund. So, a Democrat who owes $1,000 in taxes might be likely to check off $1 while a Socialist, who also owes $1,000 in taxes, probably would not.

The result, Petersen explained, is that the Democrat is paying $999 to support the federal government while the Socialist is paying $1,000.

Airman Hurt When Cycle Leaves Road

A Hamilton Air Force Base Airman was in serious condition today after lying unconscious for about two hours after an accident on his motorcycle.

A/3C Dane Andrew Parreira, 19, of 1490 South Novato Boulevard Apt. 4 Novato, was taken to the air force base hospital with possible concussion, multiple bruises and cuts of head and face. He was to be transferred to Letterman General Hospital.

Parreira was found lying in front of 1 Balra Drive about 6:30 a.m. by Maj. (Ret.) Raymond Dougherty Sr. of 110 Shevelin Road, who called police.

Police traced the tracks of Parreira's 1966 motorcycle from where it hit the curb on a curve on Balra Drive and went 75 feet across lawns and a driveway. Parreira lay 30 feet beyond the wrecked cycle.

Tourists Warned Against Czechs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department is warning American tourists it cannot guarantee their safety in Czechoslovakia, despite Czech assurances.

The warning, issued yesterday, was seen as the first retaliatory pressure on the Czechs for the arrest of Czech-born, American Travel agent, Vladimir Kazan-Komarek in Prague Oct. 31.

The Czech government has refused to allow United States consular officials to see Kazan.

Carmichael Banned In Los Angeles Parks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Stokely Carmichael, leader of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee, said last night he will speak in Los Angeles despite a board of supervisors refusal for a permit.

The board refused Carmichael a permit to speak in a county park. He could, however, speak at a private gathering.

Fall Breaks Leg

Joseph Zuschin of 39 First Street, Apt. 2, Corte Madera, fractured his right leg in a fall yesterday.

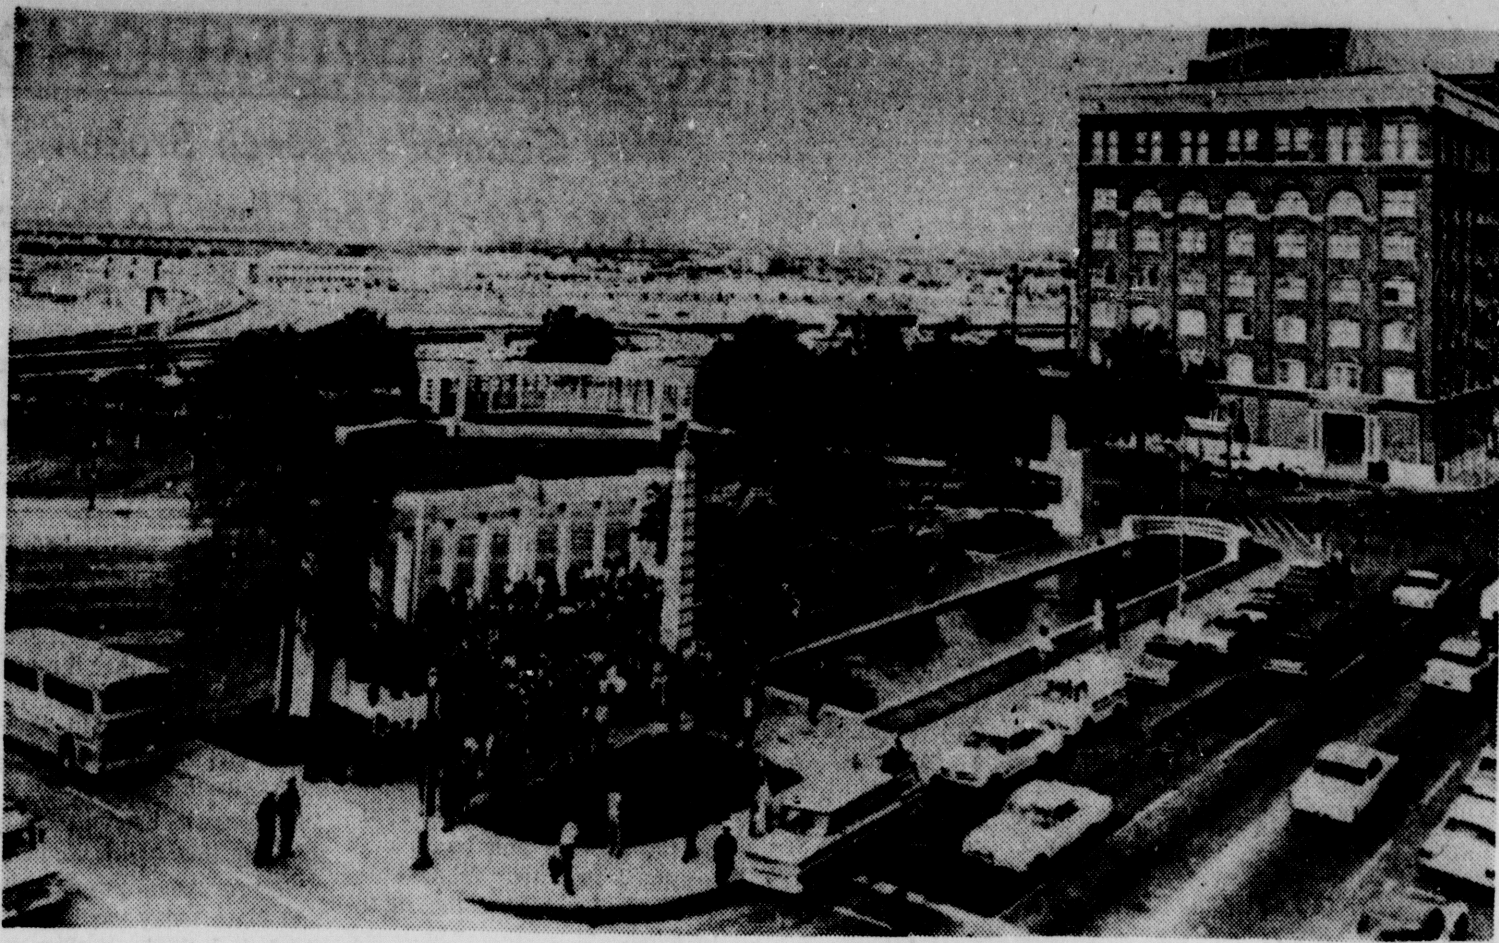

Zuschin was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital. The accident happened at 2:45 p.m. at the home of Alice M. Lehman, 330 Redwood Avenue.

In Good Condition

Lynn M. Reavell, 19, of 4 Holstein Road, San Anselmo, was reported improved and in good condition at Marin General Hospital today, with cuts, chest bruises and a possible concussion from a Monday night San Rafael auto accident.

Marin Clergymen Join Others In Plea To End Death Penalty

Twenty-six clergymen, including eight from Marin, yesterday directed a plea to Gov. Edmund G. Brown for "maximum feasible executive clemency" for the 63 men on Death Row in San Quentin Prison.

The 26 include representatives of Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths. They announced their appeal at a San Francisco conference called by the Friends Committee on Legislation, a Quaker-sponsored group which seeks abolition of the death penalty. No one has been executed in California since Jan. 23, 1963, they pointed out. However, two Death Row inmates now face execution dates: Ernest Leroy Jacobson on Dec. 6 and Dovie C. Mathis on Dec. 14.

The 63 men on San Quentin's Death Row comprise the largest number of condemned men in the world today.

Wrote the clergymen: "On Oct. 18, Queen Elizabeth issued a full pardon to Timothy Evans, whom the crown had hanged in 1950 — by mistake. The U.S. Department of Justice has just recently expressed its opposition to capital punishment, as have the legislatures of Great Britain, West Virginia, Iowa, Vermont and New York. So far this year there has been only one execution in the entire U. S."

"We call your particular attention to the direct vote of the people of our neighboring state of Oregon, which abolished the death penalty. We hope you will manifest the same compassion as governors of Oregon, Kansas and Massachusetts who have used their power of commutation to eliminate that which you yourself have termed 'an obscene pageant'."

Marinites signing the appeal were: James E. Symons, St. Andrew Presbyterian Church, Marin City; James L. Forbes, San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo; John E. Riley, dean, Episcopal Church of Marin; John S. Thornton, Episcopal Church of Sausalito; Jack Bartlett, Community Church of Mill Valley; Karel F. Botermans, Unitarian-Universalist Church of Marin; William K. Harman and Bliss W. Bellinger, Faith Lutheran Church.

'SORRY'

$6,000 In Ski Loot Returned

Two thieves who stole ski equipment worth $6,000 from a Sausalito store Monday night returned the equipment last night with $11 to repair the window they broke in the burglary.

Peter Lawlor, owner of Batens and Boards, Bridgeway at Pine Street, said police found the equipment neatly stacked last night behind his store. Lawlor found a handwritten note when he arrived for work today.

The note told the story: "Dear sir:

"Behind the store you will find every last item taken the night before last. We performed this ridiculous act on the spur of the moment, and now regret it terribly. We both realize what a terrible thing we did and hope to repay you for all of it. Enclosed is $11 (all we had) to pay for the damage to the window. "Nothing would be worth the consequence we would have to pay for this. If we were booked for this, we couldn't ever be admitted to a college, which we both plan to attend, and could never get a decent job in life. A whole lifetime could be ruined by this one mishap.

"We thought of you; that you might not have insurance to cover stolen items. I would hate to ruin anyone trying to help myself. We have taken great consideration for you, and hope that you will do the same for us. "You don't have to ruin us, and I don't think that you are the type that would.

"Thank you, two sorry and stupid thieves."

Marin Churches Set Joint Rites

The spirit of brotherhood will be marked today and tomorrow as many Marin churches join in special Thanksgiving services.

Largest will be an interfaith service at 8 p.m. today at St. Isabella's Parish Community Center on Manual T. Freitas Parkway in Terra Linda.

The service will climax an eight-year ecumenical movement in Las Gallinas Valley.

Many joint activities have cleared the way for this service. Eight years ago several Protestant churches held joint Good Friday and Easter sunrise services, and six years ago, Protestants initiated a joint Thanksgiving Day service.

Meanwhile, similar moves were under way by Catholic churches in the area.

Finally it was decided early in the year to bring together members of the three faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—for a joint service independent of the churches' individual rites.

Taking leading parts will be Rev. Cyr N. Miller of St. Isabella's Catholic Church and Paul G. Schurman of Aldersgate Methodist Church and Rabbi Jacob Milgrom of Congregation Kol Shofar.

Combined choirs from participating congregations will present special music. Also President Johnson's Thanksgiving Day message will be read.

In part, the President's proclamation calls "for justice and a concern for our fellow man . . . and that we be ready to offer what we can of our food, our resources, our talents, our energies, our skills and our knowledge to help others build a better life for them. . . ."

Participating will be Aldersgate Methodist, Faith Lutheran, Christ Presbyterian, Church of the Nativity (Episcopal), Congregation Kol Shofar, Lucas Valley Community Church, American Baptist, St. Isabella's, United Church of Christ, Unitarian-Universalist Church of Marin, and Congregation Rodef Shalom.

St. Aidan's Episcopal Church and Calvary Presbyterian Church in the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area will hold joint services for the third year at 8 p.m. today at St. Aidan's. The pulpit will be shared by both ministers—Revs. Glyn Pohl of St. Aidan's and Richard Hadley of the Presbyterian Church.

Joint services are also set at 8 p.m. at St. Andrew Presbyterian Church in Marin City which will bring together Christ Episcopal of Sausalito and St. Andrew Presbyterian congregations.

In Mill Valley, the First Baptist Church, 285 Miller Avenue, will host the First Southern Baptist and Mill Valley Methodist Churches at 8 p.m.

Also scheduled at 7:30 p.m. is a special service at Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church in Tiburon.

Kremlin Eases Debt

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union is giving Indonesia a moratorium of "several years" on payments on about $800 million of the debt it owes Moscow, the Indonesian Embassy announced today. The Soviets also are going to cancel some of their aid projects in Indonesia.

Coast Chamber Backs Bolinas

Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce members have decided to back Bolinas Harbor District commissioners if they fight Marin County Planning Commission's recommendation of a 90-day interim ordinance that would suspend development on and around Bolinas Lagoon.

Meeting last night in Olema, chamber members termed the moratorium, recommended by a 5-2 vote of planning commissioners Monday, "a blocking action."

County supervisors will consider the planning commission's recommendation next Tuesday.

Emerson Would Be Able Highway Commissioner

Appointments to the State Highway Commission will be among the many matters that will come before Governor-elect Ronald Reagan in January.

One vacancy on the seven-member commission has existed since the death of James A. Guthrie last Aug. 23. Guthrie, editor-publisher emeritus of the San Bernardino Sun Telegram, had served for 23 years.

Whether Governor Brown fills this vacancy before he leaves remains to be seen.

In addition, the terms of Joseph C. Houghteling and Roger S. Woolley will expire on Jan. 15, 1967. Houghteling is a Santa Clara newspaper publisher, and Woolley a San Diego County banker.

For many decades up to 1961, Redwood Empire counties were traditionally represented on the commission by at least one member from this geographical area. F. Walter Sandelin, Ukiah hotel operator, was one. His successor, Robert Bishop of Santa Rosa, served until 1961, and was succeeded by Abraham Kofman of San Leandro.

People of the Redwood Empire Counties deserve to be represented first hand again. Governor-elect Reagan would be well advised to keep this in mind when he makes his choice from among the qualified persons he will have under consideration.

Among the distinguished and well qualified on the list, none will surpass Donald J. (Don) Emerson of Lake County.

Emerson is an energetic and youthful man who appears to be in his late 30's or early 40's. He has been in life-long contact with problems of the Redwood Empire, and his three years as president of the Redwood Empire Assn. (1959-1962) broadened his contacts with community leaders concerned with highway problems in all eight counties of the Redwood Empire from San Francisco to the Oregon border.

For many years, Emerson and his father operated the Forest Lake Resort in Lake County. Since Lake County has never been served by railroad, boat or scheduled airline, that area has always been dependent on highway transportation. Emerson is therefore keenly conscious of the importance of highway transportation to the economy of the region it serves.

His participation in Redwood Empire affairs as well as his personal economic dependence on the tourist trade has made him aware of the need for preserving scenic assets which constitute the big attraction for visitors to this area.

Emerson is a conscientious and fair-minded individual. He can be counted upon not to veer too far toward total preservation at the expense of practical highways or for total highways at the expense of conservation.

Because Emerson has sold his resort interests and is free of the 24-hour-a-day, seven-day-a-week grind that resort owners face during the tourist season, he should have ample time to devote to the Highway Commission.

Politically, Emerson is a Republican who supported Reagan's candidacy. However, he is not so much of a blind partisan that he could not support Democratic Sen. Randolph Collier, who won re-election in the expanded district that now includes Lake County.

Collier, of course, is the acknowledged leader in highway matters in the state Senate.

The appointment of Emerson to the Highway Commission should be welcomed by Senator Collier. It would be welcomed by Emerson's legion of friends and admirers throughout the Redwood Empire. We hope Governor-elect Reagan will welcome the suggestion for Emerson's appointment.

The Redwood Empire could not be represented by a better highway commissioner than Emerson. The people of the state could not be served by a more able and conscientious commissioner.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Gov.-Elect Reagan Holds Hope For Some Operational Costs

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Some small hope for possible reductions in the mounting cost of government is held out by Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan, who in his first public address after the election, said:

"We think the vote was a mandate from the people—a mandate to set to work reducing the cost of government and holding the tax line."

"The cost of government in California is the highest in the nation. The tax-load is also the highest. Both can, and must be reduced."

"To this end, we have some immediate steps in mind as well as some long-range plans. Immediately, we will seek out and appoint a man as state director of finance whose approach will be how to save money, not how to spend it.

"He will work closely with the governor and with the legislature's economy-minded legislative analyst, Alan Post, to see where money can be saved without hampering the legitimate operations of the state."

REAGAN'S STATEMENT could be the beginning of a new philosophy in government to replace the concept of the last eight years which held that the tax barrel had no bottom. But the task of even holding the line in government expenditures will be more than Herculean, it will be well-nigh impossible.

However, the fact it's going to be tried comes as heartening reassurance to the people who foot the bills, and have seen those bills increase by leaps and bounds with each new budget of the Brown administration.

The new governor's first hurdle in line with reducing the cost of government and holding the tax line, will be the 1967-68 fiscal year budget, which has to be presented to the state legislature near the beginning of the session in January.

THIS YEAR'S budget amounted to $4.6 billion. Already, there is a known deficit of from $350 to $400 million.

The legislative analyst, A. Alan Post, probably has more information on how costs of government in the state can be reduced, than any other individual. For the past eight years, he has recommended reductions, many of which have been adopted. But every year, the total budget comes out larger even than that recommended by the administration.

At no time during the past eight years has the state ordered up a survey by a business analyst firm to determine economies, better procedures and unnecessary activities.

SUCH A SURVEY would have to be financed by the legislature, but the administration made no such recommendations for improvements. As a result, government has been operated on a political, rather than on a business basis.

So it can be seen that Reagan has his job cut out for him. At least, he will make an attempt to curtail the growing infringement of government on the taxpayer's pocketbook for unnecessary and unwanted expenditures. How far he can go remains to be seen, and it is certain the public will watch closely, as well as hopefully.

"Here at College we learned a lot about one earth, but it took the Army to teach us that there are two worlds."

Did Columnist Leave Out Name?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your sophomore columnist Morrie Ryskind, who gets dyspeptic about anyone to the left of George Lincoln Rockwell, was in rare high spirits in his witty column Nov. 10 as he counted all his personal post-election blessings. Among those winners who turn him so, he ticks off Karl Mundt, John Tower, Strom Thurmond, Bo Callaway (why not Lester Maddox?) and, of course, Ronnie Babe.

In his haste, Morrie Babe forgot the big victory abroad of Kurt George Kiesinger, Prime Minister of Baden-Wuerttemberg, who got the nod as the new leader of West Germany. True, Herr Kiesinger is an ex-Nazi big shot, but he's surely a dependable bulwark against international godless atheism and creeping socialism, and I'll bet he's not soft on crime. Probably just an oversight, eh Morrie?

Reader Wonders About Dr. King

Editor, Independent-Journal:

How come Dr. Martin Luther King and other demagogues of the Great Society so strenuously oppose the teachings of the Bible?

"If a man will not work, then let him not eat!" said Saint Paul (2nd Thes. 3:10), yet M.L.K. agitates for a guaranteed income for life for everyone. Is he unaware that every government in history that gave the masses something-for-nothing soon collapsed in chaos?

Away back in the beginning, when man chose disobedience, his Maker told him, "in the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread till thou return unto the ground, for out of it thou wast taken; dust thou art and unto dust shalt thou return." (Gen. 3:10)

Of course people who are ill or handicapped must be cared for by others, but for normal humans work is necessary for the welfare of both soul and body.

When God came to dwell with men he chose the humblest possible housing; and He said, "The Son of Man came not to be served but to serve, and to give his life a ransom for many." (Mark 10:45)

This week people supported by the taxpayers shouted for extra hand-outs to celebrate His birthday! How come?

Consolidating Forces Viewed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is now obvious that county-wide police force would not achieve much interest at this time.

Here in Mill Valley we appreciate that we have a good local police force, responsible to our citizens. (And we wonder why residents of Strawberry did not also appreciate the potentials of the City of Mill Valley.)

As a taxpayer, I appreciate that consolidation would achieve some economies. I propose as a first step that we consolidate our police training schools and other facilities that are expensive but lend themselves to consolidation without loss of local autonomy.

Read Division, Its Statements

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Not only does the State Division of Highways disseminate large quantities of vague half-truths, it also originates statements that are completely false, as in the following quotation from a fairy tale released as fact: "At the current rate of increase, due to new construction and reassessment, a reduction of $6 million from the total tax rolls would be replaced in from six weeks to two months". A MILLION dollars a WEEK?

It is only too apparent the Division holds the people of Marin in low esteem, and feels it can force its ill-conceived plans upon us. Certainly we need improved transportation but is a monstrous multi-million dollar freeway the only answer? Indeed, is it an answer? The streets of San Anselmo, Fairfax, Kentfield, etc., can accept only a limited number of cars as they pour out from a freeway exit. Where do they go from there? Or is that, then considered to be a city and county problem, leading to drastic changes in the local roadways?

Surely there must be something other than an elevated, ugly sprawl of concrete, offending the senses with its noisy, stinking permanence. I doubt that any one of the proposed freeways is the best means of "obtaining relief for the traffic on the city streets and county roads," the stated aim of the State Division of Highways.

Cerebral Palsy Turnout Good

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Last Monday (Nov. 14) night United Cerebral Palsy of Marin held the first meeting of a newly established ladies auxiliary. It was a very rainy night, and it was therefore most inspiring to see 32 ladies in attendance.

There is a great deal to be accomplished for handicapped children in Marin County. The enthusiasm shown by the ladies who attended this meeting is most encouraging as we prepare to carry out needed program and fund raising activities.

On behalf of the Board of Directors of United Cerebral Palsy of Marin, and also the handicapped and their families, I wish to express our gratitude again for the response of these ladies and to share our good news with your readers. Mrs. William A. Gordon of Marinwood was named chairman of the newly formed organization.

What's The Hurry On Vote Counting?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your Nov. 10 editorial stated, "New system needed to speed up vote count." What's your hurry? There's ample time for principals to take office and measures to go into effect.

Or have we all become so TV and thrill game oriented that voting is merely an act of pulling the handle on a one-arm bandit to see whether we get plums—or sour grapes?

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Was General's Speech Broken Up When He Hit Too Close To Home?

WASHINGTON—When the chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, addresses an inter-house council at Brown University and is hooted and jeered by a group of students who break up the meeting by rushing the platform, hurling the podium to the floor, and screaming, "Draw and quarter him"—you have to ask some questions.

You might ask: By what standard of logic and conduct can these students, who want total free speech for themselves, justify so disdainful the exercise of free speech by the general and be so determined that their fellow students shall not have the right to listen?

ARE THEY so insecure in their own convictions that they can't abide listening to different convictions or, worse, allowing others to do so without trying to break it up?

What was Gen. Wheeler saying that by any stretch of rationality should evoke or justify screaming "murderer" and "traitor" as the don't-let-others-listen group of rioters sought to halt the General's speech?

Was it because he was asking the right questions in the right way to encourage the students who wanted to listen to think a little more deeply for themselves?

Gen. Wheeler had cited the verdict of the International Control Commission set up by the Geneva Conference to see that neither North nor South Viet Nam transgressed each other's territorial integrity. The verdict was that as early as 1962 North Viet Nam was "sending armed forces, munitions, and other supplies" to the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam. He then invited the students to ponder these questions:

IF MANY thousands of armed South Koreans were to penetrate North Korea and wage a war directed from Seoul, what would the Communist call this—a revolution, or aggression?

"If many thousands of armed West Germans were to penetrate East Germany and wage a war directed from Bonn, what would the Communists call this—a revolution, or aggression?"

Are these the unbearably provocative comments of the chairman of the Joint Chiefs, so exasperatingly temperate and reasonable, that the won't-listen students—few in number but so eager to impose their closed minds on the others—couldn't abide?

Or was it because he put this question to his audience?

"Those who puzzle about Viet Nam today would be less puzzled, I think, if they were first to recall and study what happened in Iran, Greece, Berlin, South Korea, the Philippines, Taiwan, and Malaya, during the past two decades. Had we and our allies not resisted aggression in these lands, how free would their peoples be today, and what kind of world would we be living in?"

Or were they annoyed because General Wheeler quoted General Giap, the commander of the North Vietnamese army, as describing South Viet Nam as "the model of the national liberating movement in our time" and as stating that, if the Communists can drive the U. S. out of South Viet Nam, then resistance to further "wars of liberation can be defeated everywhere in the world."

Perhaps the won't-listen and won't-let-others-listen peace-rioters were disappointed because General Wheeler is the very antithesis of spit 'n polish, blood 'n guts military brass. In the tradition of Gens. George Marshall and Maxwell Taylor, he is an intellectual at home in the academic environment and at ease with probing student minds.

It's too bad that most of the students had to put up with the few who chose to probe with their fists.

Prisoner Exchange Hints In The Air

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—There are signs that North Viet Nam may be ready to consider an exchange of prisoners of war.

North Viet Nam diplomats in Algeria and Poland are putting out feelers that a halt in U.S. bombing attacks could lead to negotiations for an exchange of prisoners.

These cautious intimations have been relayed to the State Department through "third parties"—French and Polish officials.

BECAUSE OF THIS circuitous approach, U.S. authorities are carefully studying the reports to determine whether there is any real substance to them.

That was the main purpose behind Secretary Dean Rusk's latest public challenge to Hanoi to say "what it is prepared to do if we suspend bombing of the North."

By pressing for a direct response, Rusk hopes to ascertain whether the Red regime is definitely linked to the prisoner-exchange overtures.

Should this turn out to be the case, Rusk is saying privately he is prepared to recommend a temporary halt in bombing.

HIS PURPOSE would be not only to obtain the release of U.S. war prisoners, but also possibly to further prospects for opening truce negotiations. Rusk claims that prisoner exchange talks in the Korean conflict helped open the way to negotiations that resulted in the armistice that is still in effect.

While awaiting further moves by Hanoi, the State Department is quietly working through the International Red Cross to obtain information on the number and identity of U.S. prisoners, where they are located and how they are being treated.

As of Nov. 1, the International Red Cross had definitely established that 79 U.S. servicemen are captive in North Viet Nam, Navy, 38; Air Force, 29; Army, 11, Marines, 1.

In addition, five U.S. civilians are being held—two of them foreign aid officials.

U.S. authorities believe the number of American military prisoners is much larger.

This opinion is based on several factors. One is intelligence reports that several groups of American prisoners have been interned in recent weeks in newly-built camps on the outskirts of Hanoi and Haiphong.

ANOTHER FACTOR is that 355 servicemen are carried as "missing" on the rolls. It is believed that many of them are captive. They include 239 Air Force and 52 Navy airmen, 39 Marines and 25 Army men.

While correspondents of Communist publications have been permitted to interview U.S. prisoners from time to time, IRC officials have been barred from seeing them or inspecting the internment camps.

Recently when Red Cross officials in Hanoi asked for details on the treatment of U.S. airmen, they were handed the carefully censored reports of several Red newsmen.

U.S. prisoners are not allowed to send or receive mail on any regular basis. However, the IRC is trying to work out an agreement for Christmas deliveries.

to say an important customer had just walked unannounced into the office so there was to be no golf for him that day.

Needless to say, his wife drove over to the club that afternoon, and hubby saw her first from the fairway of the eighth hole. "Give me a sand wedge fast," he instructed his caddy. "It looks like I'm going to have to recover from a bad lie."

Tiburon Still Stoutly Waging Its Own 'Battle Of The Bridge'

The "Battle of the Bridge" is still on in Tiburon. Mayor John S. Hoffmire Jr. recently objected to two of the plans shown at a meeting of San Francisco property owners.

One plan showed a tube to downtown Tiburon with a connecting freeway to Tiburon Boulevard. Another showed a bridge to Angel Island, connecting with the Keil Cove and Paradise Drive areas.

MEANWHILE, commuters find traffic congestion on the Golden Gate Bridge and its approaches something they would like an immediate answer for. The complex Bay-Area-wide problem may need a combination of transportation systems rather than just one major system.

At the same meeting, Supervisor Peter Behr spoke of a rapid transit bus system and a bridge parallel to the Bay bridge which would tie in with the Richmond bridge and northern Marin — because the biggest volume of traffic comes from the northern end of the county rather than the southern end.

As a modern-day wise man has said, maybe automobiles are becoming obsolete.

A NEW FACE in the Belvedere police department is David L. King, 27, replacing Bill Fraas who recently resigned. King was graduated from the Palo Alto police school, has worked one and a half years in Isleton, and two and a half years in Atherton's police department.

Saturation Point 1966 on giveaways and gimmicks has been more quiet on the Tiburon Peninsula but it has been felt here, too. I often see shoppers refusing contest slips, sometimes even trading stamps. They say they have run out of things they really want or need at the stamp store.

This is quite a switch from a period during which my childhood hobby was sending for "free samples" or "free gift items." On rainy days, such as we've been having recently, I would clip coupons from magazines and send for as many items as my allowance would permit.

I WOULDN'T spend over 25 cents unless it was something special, such as an Ovaltine mug with Orphan Annie's picture on it. Many samples were only 10 cents. It was really the things that counted.

I think it was the thrill of sending out coupons to places I'd only read about, Battle Creek, Michigan; Hershey, Pa.; Boston, Mass.; Terre Haute, Ind., and then waiting for the packages to arrive.

Today, the mails bring us unsolicited cards and letters saying "you may have already won twenty thousand dollars or a valuable free gift." More and more often these announcements are finding their way into the circular file at the post office.

But when stores have a really special special such as five pounds of sugar for 35 cents, I notice they get an enthusiastic response from customers. Perhaps it is an encouraging trend in the world that shoppers like real bargains today, not just "maybe" promises of winning money or merchandise.

WHILE SHOPPING in a local store, I used to see a beautiful, young female Army officer with dark hair. She was tall, had perfect posture and a face that was strong but lovely. I was sorry to hear recently that Maj. Ruth Strain had passed away after an illness. Her description fits the lovely officer I chatted with over the lettuce bin.

Ruth's sister, Lt. Col. Alma Ladd, a retired Army nurse, recently donated two large philodendron plants (broad leaved and split leaved) to the Tiburon city office in honor of Major Strain. I learned from Col. Ladd's sister, Mrs. Howard E. Scott of Livermore, that the two met while serving after World War II in Europe. Later, they were both stationed at Letterman Hospital in San Francisco. Col. Ladd is presently on her way to Florida on a vacation. Her sister is staying in her Tiburon home while she is away.

Major Strain had lived for several years in Tiburon Cove. She was originally from Sandusky, Ohio.

Fred Zelinsky's developments in Tiburon have been a source of concern, delight and controversy alternately to many residents.

Mr. "Z" may someday be known as Tiburon's tireless developer.

When the Windjammer restaurant was opened, some friends said this would probably be the last project to interest Fred in Tiburon. But, since then he has been making plans to find a tenant for another restaurant on Main

What If Lurleen Wallace Had Notion To Dump Her George?

WASHINGTON — The editor of the Adirondack Daily Enterprise has just presented me with a terrible thought. He wondered what would happen if Lurleen Wallace, the governor-elect of Alabama, would suddenly to divorce her husband, George.

It couldn't happen, of course, because I understand they're very happy together—but let's just say for argument's sake it did.

There is nothing in the Alabama Constitution that makes provision for the governor of the state to divorce her husband, so they would have to talk it over to reach a amicable settlement.

"GEORGE, I have something to tell you. I want to get a divorce."

"But, Governor, why?" Mr. Wallace asks.

"Ever since I was elected to this office we've been drifting apart. You've been bouncing all over the United States saying you want to run for President, and you've left me at home to work over a hot desk vetoing bills, making out the budget and segregating the schools."

"BUT, HONEY, I'm doing it for you," Mr. Wallace protests. "Don't call me Honey."

"I'm sorry, Governor. You must understand I'm doing this for you. If I'm elected Street (which he calls "restaurant row"). People asking, "Do we really need another restaurant?" don't seem to get through to him.

HE HAS ALSO been talking about constructing some office buildings soon in downtown Tiburon. Looks like Mr. "Z" hasn't retired from planning and developing projects yet!

"But you told me if I ran for governor all I would have to do is appear on television with you. Now it turns out I'm doing all the work. You know how I am about balancing a budget."

MR. WALLACE says, "We can't get a divorce. Think of our political futures. The scandal would rock the white citizens councils all over America."

"How could you do that when you know what the National Guard means to me? They need a father."

"The courts will be on my side," Mrs. Wallace says. "I also want Montgomery, Birmingham and Mobile. You can have Lowndes County and Selma."

"IT ISN'T FAIR," Mr. Wallace cries. "I worked hard for Montgomery, Birmingham and Mobile."

Lyrebird Bookshop Acquired By Experienced Businesswoman

There has been a change of ownership at Lyrebird Bookshop, 832 B Street, San Rafael, where Mrs. Jeanne Bernays, temporarily, of Mill Valley, has taken over the business from Kevin Brooke.

New lease arrangements were handled by Tamarin Realty Associates.

Mrs. Bernays has been going over 40,000 volumes, rearranging them according to categories and throwing out some old periodicals. Cleaning and re-decorating have also been in progress. This is a used bookshop and Mrs. Bernays also does appraisal work and will buy complete libraries in order to acquire additional stocks.

She has been in the book business many years—in England, British Columbia and Southern California — managing large bookstores and acting as a dealer representative.

Store hours from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., she says, will be strictly observed, Mondays through Saturdays.

FELIX M. WARBURG, a member of Marin County Planning Commission for six years and who formerly had his own architectural and planning firm in San Rafael from 1958 to 1963, has been named an associate in the firm of Lawrence Halprin and Associates. He will be in charge of planning activities, including urban design, land, civic, government, environmental and visual planning research. Warburg joined Halprin in 1964 and has been project manager in work as coordinating architect for the California Exposition and the Sea Ranch, second home community on the northern Sonoma coast.

JAMES W. FITCH of San Rafael has been appointed West Coast regional representative on a national transportation panel. He is district manager for the Diamond T Division of White Motor Co.

A BUICK FOR CALIFORNIA DRIVERS

inch wheelbase, 260-horsepower V-3 engine with four-barrel carburetion and Buick's Super Turbine automatic transmission. On display in mid-December at Don Collins Buick, San Rafael.

moted to assistant operations officer in Napa.

LOWELL N. ROSS of Kentfield has been appointed San Francisco branch manager for the Royfax Division of Litton Industries, Inc. Earlier he was education products coordinator, and earlier, Western regional manager in the microfilm production division of the 3M Co. for more than eight years.

MEANWHILE—here is the perfect Marin County project: A 256-acre industrial park, with railroad and major highway accessibility, plenty of water, electricity, gas and sewage disposal. Level, industrially zoned and priced attractively enough to be partitioned into large parcels for large concerns.

Initial development, already under way—a 27.5-acre airport site to accommodate 75 to 100 planes on the field, a runway 100 feet wide and 2,400 feet long (now being graded)—for the benefit of industry executives flying their own or company aircraft and other commercial and private planes. Flight training school, offices, repair shops, hangars and eventually a restaurant.

Alas—this is just a dream for Marin, I guess—otherwise it would be front page news instead of in this column. Too bad—we have virtually everything needed to make such an undertaking a reality but know-how. But Sonoma County has some of the latter and the project is headline material there. Location: Between Vineburg and Schellville, not far from the city of Sonoma.

Charles W. Rosenbaum and Louis H. (Bud) Baar of Redwood and Co., San Rafael handled the property transaction for the airport and are making the industrial park presentation to interested firms. I imagine they won't have too much to worry about in getting it occupied.

Some Changes Suggested In A Widow's Portfolio

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am a widow of 70. I have $100 a month Social Security, $1,600 annually from a trust fund; $100 per month from rentals; 200 shares of Crum and Foster and 200 American Motors, purchased at 12 1/2. I'm worried about American Motors. What changes should I make?" R.R.

A. Your over-all situation is very sound, I am glad to say. Crum and Foster is an insurance management and holding company and a good stock in its field.

Your position here represents a current investment of nearly $10,000 and brings you an annual return of $400. I believe you can get better income than this without too much sacrifice of security. I advise you to switch half your Crum and Foster into equal dollar amounts of CIT Financial, yielding 6 per cent; Norfolk and Western, selling on a 6.3 per cent basis; and Dukess Light, yielding 5.2 per cent. American Motors has been operating at a deficit and pays no dividend. This stock is too speculative for you and I would switch it into fewer shares of Cluett, Peabody which offers a 5 per cent return.

Stocks Shake Off Oversold Condition

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today, snapping off a string of four straight declines. Trading was fairly active.

Stock prices snapped back from what brokers called an oversold condition, flouting another raft of drab economic news.

"There had to be some rebound from the selloff," said one analyst.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.4 million shares compared with 6.43 million Tuesday. Gains of key stocks ranged from fractions to 1 or 2 points. The more volatile glamor stocks showed advances of several points in some instances.

IMB rose 7, Xerox 5, Corning Glass 10, Delta Airlines and Burroughs 4, Wagner Electric nearly 4, Fairchild Camera, Polaroid and Texas Gulf Sulphur about 3 each.

Ahead about 2 points were Raytheon, United Aircraft, M-G-M, Texaco, Eastern Air

Manufacture Rate Rising In California

SAN FRANCISCO—With durable goods reaping the biggest gains, California's manufacturing activity moved ahead in October, reaching $20.53 billion, a gain of .24 per cent over last month and 9.3 per cent over a year ago, according to figures released by the Bank of California.

These estimates of value added in each stage of manufacturing are seasonally adjusted at an annual rate.

Manufacturing of durable goods rose 3 per cent in the month to $13.67 billion, increasing by 11 per cent over October 1965. The metal-connected industries accounted for nearly three-fourths of all durable goods produced and nearly one-half of all manufacturing.

Transportation equipment made the heaviest gains, both in dollars and in percentage gain, by soaring 18.9 per cent in a year's time.

Electrical equipment and components swung upward in the same time period, increasing 17 per cent, as did machinery (14.2 per cent), primary metals (10.5 per cent), and fabrication of metal products (6 per cent).

Nondurable goods mounted .15 per cent to reach $6.86 billion in the month, surpassing October 1965 by 5.9 per cent.

Over the year, food processing has increased 3.5 per cent, printing and publishing 6.5 per cent and apparel fabrication 1.9 per cent.

Factories in the state are employing approximately 1.6 million workers compared with 1.5 million a year ago, with the aerospace complex reaching a level of 550,000 jobs. Average weekly hours and earnings are at an all time high.

Bay Airline Breaks Record For Non-Stop

OAKLAND — Trans International Airlines posted a non-stop air transport record this week on a charter flight from Honolulu to Richmond, Va., a total of 4,830 miles in 8 hours, 14 minutes, according to Henry P. Huff, executive vice president of TIA.

The charter flight carried 178 members of the shrine temple of Richmond who were completing a two week tour of San Francisco, Las Vegas and Honolulu.

The application also would seek a license for the new association to operate a branch at 4087 Fremont Boulevard in Fremont.

The hearing will begin at 10 a.m. in the division offices at 111 Pine Street.

Notre Dame 13-Point Pick Over USC

NEW YORK (UPI) —The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame are 13-point favorites to post their first unbeaten season since 1953 when they play Southern California this weekend, but the Irish could use all the points they can muster to regain their No. 1 spot in the national rankings.

A victory over Rose Bowl bound USC would give Ara Parseghian's troops their first undefeated season, with a 9-0-1 mark, since Frank Leahy's 1963 squad.

The annual service academy classic finds Navy a slim three-point choice over Army. The Midshipmen beat the Cadets 11-8 in 1964. The teams played to a 7-7 tie last year.

Elsewhere around the country, several bowl-bound teams close out their seasons. No. 4 Nebraska is a six-point selection over Oklahoma on Thanksgiving Day, as the Cornhuskers prepare for their match with Alabama in the Sugar Bowl. Bowl hopeful Texas is an eight pick over Texas A&M, and Virginia Tech is a 25-point choice over VMI in other Thursday games.

Georgia, No. 7, which will meet the Southwest Conference champion in the Cotton Bowl, is a one-point choice over fifth-ranked Georgia Tech. Florida, ranked ninth and Georgia Tech's opponent in the Orange Bowl, is a three-point pick over Miami, which has been invited to the Liberty Bowl against an unnamed opponent.

In the other games, third-ranked Alabama is an off-the-board choice against Southern Mississippi, Virginia is two over North Carolina, Boston College two against Holy Cross, Baylor seven over Rice, Clemson eight against South Carolina and Florida State 14 over Maryland.

The Detroit Lions are three-point favorites over San Francisco and Dallas is three over Cleveland in Thursday's National Football League action. Buffalo is rated even with Oakland in the American Football League.

On Sunday, in the NFL, Green Bay is a six-point choice over Minnesota, St. Louis is seven over Pittsburgh, Baltimore is eight over Los Angeles, Chicago 17 over Atlanta, and Washington 19 over New York.

In the AFL, Kansas City is three over New York, Boston 11 over Miami and San Diego 12 over Denver.

Marin Catholic Too Small To Compete Against Local Teams

THE MISMATCH—Sad to say—and I suppose I'll get a few poison pen letters for this too—but Marin Catholic High School has been playing out of its class in athletics for several years and the situation is getting worse.

The Marin Athletic League is just too tough for the small parochial school in Greenbrae and, frankly, I'd like to see the Wildcats in a smaller league where they'd at least have a chance at some sports glory.

BEFORE YOU jump down my throat, let me say that I realize the Wildcats won the baseball Tournament of Champions in a Cinderella story last spring and that their baseball and basketball teams have had some success in the past years. But, generally, the odds are overwhelmingly against them.

The football situation has become almost pathetic. The Wildcats have lost their last 34 consecutive varsity league games, a disheartening string dating back to 1961. In that period they have been shut out 16 times by some pretty lop-sided scores.

AN EXAMINATION of Marin League records dating back to its inception in 1959 shows that Marin Catholic has won 3 games, including 2 in 1959 and the other in 1961, while losing 42!

During this season's league schedule, the Wildcats scored 18 points to their six opponents' 199.

COACHES WILL tell you that you find one good football player in every 50 boys and Marin Catholic's restricted enrollment is quite a disadvantage against schools of much larger enrollment.

MARIN CATHOLIC'S entry in the Marin Athletic League has been convenient for all these years. For one thing, their intra-county schedules have guaranteed nice financial rewards at the gates. Also, there have been minimum travel expenses.

However, the welfare of the athletes has to be considered. Boys should not be subjected to the indignities of 53-0 beatings consistently throughout their high school athletic careers.

I THINK the Greenbrae school has done a remarkable job of keeping school spirit high throughout these long and dreary football seasons. And if the Wildcats withdraw from the MAL—as has been the rumor—I wish them well in their new conference. We'll follow their activities wherever they go and root for them.

MARIN ROD AND GUN CLUB'S 40th annual banquet is scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 28 at its Pt. San Quentin clubhouse.

THIS IS THE final week for the I-J's Fearless, Peerless Piskin Prognostications and it shapes up as a battle right down to the wire.

Defending champion Bob Alvarado, who came on strong like Silky Sullivan in recent weeks, is now in first place, one game ahead of rookie Bob Dinsmore. Then come Gary Tischler, little old me, Rob Harvey and Ralph Chatoian.

Turn to page 11 for this week's picks.

Australian Fred Stolle Is Named No. 1 Tennis Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Fred Stolle of Australia is the No. 1 amateur tennis player in the world, in the year-end rankings of World Tennis Magazine.

Stolle, winner of the U.S. championship, was given a slight edge over the Wimbledon winner Manuel Santana of Spain.

The best U.S. placing was fifth by Dennis Ralston of Bak-ersfield, Calif.

The top ten: Fred Stolle, Australia; 2. Manuel Santana, Spain; 3. Tony Roche, Australia; 4. Roy Emerson, Australia; 5. Dennis Ralston, U.S.A.; 6. Arthur Ashe, U.S.A.; 7. Cliff Drysdale, South Africa; 8. John Newcombe, Australia; 9. Clark Graebner, U.S.A.; 10. Istvan Gulvas, Hungary.

Billie Jean King of Long Beach, the Wimbledon champion, tops the women's rankings. Maria Bueno of Brazil is No. 2, followed by Ann Jones of England, Margaret Smith of Aus-

Two Indians, One Bear On West Roster

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Quarterback Dave Lewis and center Tim Sheehan of Stanford and 135-pound University of California end Jerry Bradley were named to the West squad Tuesday for the East-West football game on Dec. 31.

Lewis, a regular quarterback in 1965, played both halfback and quarterback during the past season.

Bradley set California pass catching records and also starred as a punt and kickoff return runner.

Warriors' Streak Is Snapped

NEW YORK (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors' seven-game National Basketball Association winning streak was fractured last night by the Baltimore Bullets, but there could be revenge tonight.

The San Franciscans, after leading 63-52 at the half, fell off during some furious play and were laid by the heels 125-117, on the short end of a last-quarter scoring streak.

The Bullets' comeback followed a 10-point scoring run by Johnny Green in the third quarter, including six in a row.

San Francisco took back the lead in the fourth period by scoring nine in a row, then Baltimore's Gus Johnson got hot. With about two minutes to go, he hit two baskets and a foul shot. Baltimore was ahead 116-111.

He wrapped it up in a final display, scoring two more field goals.

Johnson scored 21 points in the game. Nate Thurmond went 29 points for the losers, while Warriors' Rick Barry got 28.

It was the fourth victory in 20 games this season for Baltimore. The Warriors defeat cut their Western Division lead over St. Louis to one game, while the Bullets by their win were still in the Eastern Division cellar a whopping 13 games behind Philadelphia.

Scene of the Warriors-Bullets game tonight is Washington, D.C.

Lions Favored Over 49ers In Tomorrow's NFL Game

DETROIT (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers had all they could do to beat Detroit at Kezar Stadium a month ago when the Lions were supposed to be a team torn by dissension.

Now, they play the same Lions in Detroit Stadium on Thanksgiving Day and the team reportedly couldn't be happier.

In the Kezar game, San Francisco beat Detroit, 27-24, on John Brodie's last second 21-yard touchdown pass to Monty Stickles after it appeared young quarterback Karl Sweetan, a refugee from the semi-pro ranks, was about to hang one on the 49ers in his first game in the National Football League.

Since then, with feelings between the Lions and coach Harry Gilmer reportedly improved, Detroit has played the Chicago Bears to a 10-10 tie, and then on consecutive Sundays, has upset the Minnesota Vikings, 31-30, and the Baltimore Colts, 20-14, all with Sweetan at the helm.

During the same period, the 49ers beat the Vikings and Rams, played the Bears to a 30-30 standoff and lost to the Philadelphia Eagles, 35-34.

Off that most recent form, the Lions are 3 point favorites over the 49ers in a game which Detroit fans regard the most important of the season for their heroes. Maybe that's because for years the traditional Thanksgiving Day opponents were the hated Green Bay Packers.

In any event, San Francisco coach Jack Christiansen has been attempting for two days now to make the 49ers forget all about last Sunday's loss to the Eagles—a game it appeared San Francisco would win in a rout in the first half. However, King Hill fired three TD passes in the final period and a 34-yard runback of an intercepted Brodie pass gave the Eagles a fourth score for their upset victory.

The loss dropped the 49ers to fourth place in the NFL's Western Division race and left their chances of finishing second for a spot in the Runnerup Bowl hanging on victories over the Lions, Packers, Bears and Colts in their final four games of the season. San Francisco is 4-4-2 and Detroit, a notch behind and moving, is 4-6-1.

San Francisco lost halfback Jimmy Jackson for the rest of the season in the Philadelphia game (cracked rib) and has re-activated another rookie halfback, Bob Daugherty of Tulsa, to take his place. Another player who won't see action tomorrow is middle linebacker Ed Beard (bad knees). His replacement will be the veteran Mike Dowdle.

'Greatest Thrill,' Declares Spurrier

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — It was anything but a complete surprise, yet winning the Heisman Trophy as the nation's outstanding collegiate football player was Steve Spurrier's greatest thrill.

"Every young boy, when he sees a picture of the Heisman Trophy winner, puts himself in that picture," Spurrier said.

"With all the speculation there has been, I thought all along I had a good chance," said the University of Florida quarterback.

"When the man from Dr. Reitz's office (University President J. Wayne Reitz) came for me, I had an idea it was something like this."

"We're all proud of you," Florida Coach Ray Graves told Spurrier. "This is certainly a great honor. You're only the third player from the South to win it."

"I know it wouldn't have been possible without the fine blocking of Jim Benson, John Preston, Bill Carr and everybody," Spurrier replied. "And our fine backs and our defensive unit," he added.

"This whole team is all for one. When one gets an honor, it's for all. This has helped us a lot."

Spurrier was calm as he answered questions with two microphones around his neck and another in front of him.

He said he had found time to notify his wife, Jerri, shortly after he learned he had won the honor.

"She's not the type to get excited," Spurrier said. "Other things have come along, and she takes them in stride. But this really did tickle her almost as much as it did me."

As for two games still ahead, Spurrier doesn't think the Heisman Trophy will be a factor.

"Give me one day to get over the excitement and I'll be ready for Miami Saturday," he said. "You can't let up before a game like this one."

Spurrier said he didn't believe the Miami linemen nor those from Georgia Tech, which Florida will meet in the Orange Bowl game Jan. 2, will be out to get him.

"I can always rely on our line for protection," he said.

Vest Elected State Golf President

Edward Vest of 423 Woodland Road in Kentfield is the new president of the California Golf Assn.

"I am delighted," Vest said of his new position in the golf association. Vest is a former president of the Northern California Golf Assn. and is a member of Meadow Club in Fairfax.

Vest, a partner in the San Francisco real estate firm of Hogan and Vest, has been living in Marin County for the past 17 years. He and his wife, Cesira, have two married daughters.

Vest has been a member of the California Golf Assn. for eight years.

Paul Giesler of Riverside was named first vice president and Ray E. Fischer of Sacramento, second vice president.

Donald E. Doten of Orinda is secretary-treasurer. Dates for the 1967 California Amateur championships were set for June 19-25 at Pebble Beach.

Confederate Wins

SAN MATEO (AP) — Confederate, $8.60, scored a front running four-length victory over Pagan Gem in the Summit Lake Farm Purse at Bay Meadows yesterday.

JIM MURRAY

Feeling Lousy Today?
You're Upside Down!

Listen! Feet hurt? Ears ringing? How about corns? Got them? Dandruff on your collar? Breath bad? Spine curved? Feet flat? Ankles swell? Can you read an eye chart without squinting? No?

Know what your trouble is? You're upside-down! Don't take my word for it. I am quoting one of the world's foremost authorities for the fact that man was meant to walk the earth with his feet in the air. Louis Jay Nova, the one-time fistfighter, is the man who makes the case for the headlast approach to life. Man's troubles began the moment he began to walk upright on the earth.

THERE ARE those who contend that, judging by the outcome of his fights, no one should have a better idea of what it feels like to be standing on your head than Lou Nova. In some of his fights, the only time he was completely upright was during the Star-Spangled Banner. Against Joe Louis, he had an opportunity to study several positions deviating from the vertical. Lou was horizontal so much of the time, to this day the only part of him Joe Louis can recognize right quick is the soles of his feet. Lou got $185,000 as his purse for that fight which makes it the highest-priced headstand in history.

OF COURSE, Lou cannot be blamed for being one of several dozen fighters to spend a Louis fight 180 degrees from the perpendicular. Only 13 months earlier, he had undergone such a carving from Tony Galento that Galento should have been prosecuted for practicing surgery without a license. Lou didn't mind when he looked into the mirror and didn't recognize himself—temporary amnesia is not unknown in the fight game—but when his dog bit him, he knew Galento had a head you could shave with. Some of Lou's friends not only didn't know who he was they didn't know what he was.

YOU CAN see why Lou perceived the enemy of mankind as gravity, after that. He turned to the theater where he confounded the critics who were all ready to say "Lou Nova met Shakespeare last night and got stopped in the first act." Lou married—a college girl who could translate books in four languages—provided they weren't cookbooks.

SHE COULDN'T even open cans," Lou sighs. "In fact, she couldn't even thaw a TV dinner."

Her literary attainments paled after that. When Lou said he wanted bacon for breakfast, he didn't mean Sir Francis. Lou's favorite author was Betty Crocker.

LIFE HAS been all downhill for Lou since those days. "A person like myself, I suffer a lot," he told me the other afternoon as he did a handstand in the lobby of the Biltmore Hotel. "I try to be a perfectionist in everything I do."

Lou has stood medicine on its ear by standing patients on theirs. "Big medical doctors tell me, 'Now why didn't I think of that?'"

STANDING ON your head is sovereign for the following (Lou says): Strokes, disc trouble, prolapsed organs (also out-of-tune pianos), face wrinkles, baldness, hypertension, migraines, leukemia, hemophilia, deafness and dizziness. Also double chins. "We have strokes because we don't get enough blood into the circulatory system standing upright," says Lou, who became an authority on blood by losing so much of it in the ring. "Walk with your head up and your heart has to work too hard pumping all that blood to it." Standing on your head is good also, Lou says, for constipation, sinus trouble, and, under certain circumstances, can fight tooth decay.

LOU HAS built a receptacle for the headstand, a couple of aluminum pipes with cushions on the side for the shoulders. It retails for a modest $20. Among other things, it keeps you from getting impulse to reverse yourself while crossing a sidewalk, as Lou frequently does. It's good for nose bleed, nasal drip and lower plate wobble.

LOU RECOMMENDS you spend no more than three minutes at a time on your head because, if you spend any more than that, you will break the record for a headstand set by King Tut which stands at 6,000 years. If you have trouble standing on your head, Lou will get Joe Louis to come over and knock you on it. After all, that's how he got his start.

Giants To Play 30-Game Spring Schedule In '67

A 30-game exhibition game program, topped by a two-game weekend series with the California Angels at Candlestick Park (a San Francisco "first," on Saturday, April 8 and Sunday, April 9) has been arranged for the San Francisco Giants' 1967 training campaign which, for the twentieth year, will have them pitching camp in Arizona.

The formal training work will start at the Giants' own base at Casa Grande (a 10-day program) on Feb. 27, and continue over a three-week period at Phoenix.

End Mike Biber Named Tam MVP At Sports Fete

Senior Mike Biber, the record-breaking end who caught 56 passes this season, last night was named Tamalpais High School's Most Valuable Player for 1966 at the school's football banquet at Bermuda Palms, San Rafael.

Other varsity awards went to junior halfback Mike Fowler, Most Valuable Back; linebacker Phil Simpson, Most Inspirational Player; and senior quarterback Steve Woodward, Most Improved Player.

Biber and Woodward were named team co-captains and Leroy Barrow won the varsity A. A. Slag Awards for all-around excellence.

Junior Varsity awards went to Luther Brown, Most Inspirational; Greg Schaefer, Most Improved; and Dave Hector and Charles McBride, the Stag Awards.

Jan Brink was named Most Improved freshman player and Bob Russo and Bill Secor won the Stag Awards for the frosh. The banquet was sponsored by the Tam Boosters Club.

teams will be training in the Arizona-Southern California area: The Chicago Cubs at Scottsdale, the Cleveland Indians at Tucson, and the California Angels at Palm Springs. Twenty-nine of the spring games will be divide among them.

A feature of the spring schedule is a California Valley tour which will have the Giants playing the Indians and Angels at San Diego, Bakersfield, Fresno, Stockton and Modesto, before their entry into Candlestick for the games with the Angels. Incidentally, the Giants inaugurate the National League season on the Road in 1967 at St. Louis, with the home opener, also against the Cardinals, scheduled for Tuesday, April 18.

The complete spring schedule:

Spurrier And Griese Head All-Star Team

CHICAGO (UPI)—The American Football Coaches Association yesterday named 25 players, including quarterbacks Steve Spurrier of Florida and Bob Griese of Purdue, to its 1966 All-America team.

In addition to selecting two quarterbacks, the 1,000 coaches participating in the balloting also chose a flanker back to augment the two running backs, making their 1966 offensive all-star team a 13-man squad. On defense, they named three tackles, making it a 12-man squad.

The voting for Spurrier and Griese was so evenly split that the coaches decided it would be unfair to select one over the other.

Here are the players selected by the coaches:

Offense

Ends: Jack Clancy, Michigan and Gene Washington, Michigan State.

Tackles: Ron Yary, Southern California and Wayne Mass, Clemson.

Guards: Tom Regner, Notre Dame and Cecil Dowdy, Alabama.

Center: Jim Breland, Georgia Tech.

Quarterbacks: Steve Spurrier, Florida and Bob Griese, Purdue.

Halfbacks: Mel Farr, UCLA and Floyd Little, Syracuse.

Flanker: Ray Perkins, Alabama.

Defense

Ends: Bubba Smith, Michigan State and Tom Greenlee, Washington.

Tackles: Pete Duranko, Notre Dame; Lloyd Phillips, Arkansas and Wayne Meylan, Nebraska.

Middle guard: John Lagrone, Southern Methodist.

Linebackers: Jim Lynch, Notre Dame and Paul Naumoff, Tennessee.

Halfbacks: George Webster, Michigan State; Tom Beier, Miami (Fla.); Nate Shaw, Southern California and Martine Bercher, Arkansas.

CROSS COUNTRY MEET

Marin Athletes Run Into Some Stiff Competition

Marin Athletic League entries ran into some of the toughest competition this side of an Olympic team at the Northern California Cross Country eliminations and as a result finished slightly back in the pack of the 13 team field at Pleasant Hills. Pittsburg with 56 points, Pleasant Hills with 97 and Tenyson with 102 finished one, two, three in the inverted scoring and they're rated in the top ten high school cross teams in the country.

Redwood, MCAL champ and champion at the Division III meet last week, had the best Marin County finish by placing ninth with 234 points. Terra Linda was 11th.

Bob Bunnel of Terra Linda was the top MCAL runner at the meet with a sixth-place finish in 9:23 over a course that was said to be an even two miles.

The individual winner was Mike Isola of Mount Diablo with a 9:11 time.

Campalinda won the frosh-soph meet with a 60-point finish. Redwood was eighth, Drake ninth, and Tamalpais 11th. Wayne Horouchi of Redwood finished 25th, followed by teammate Tim Taylor in 26th.

Nave Lanes Keg Highlights

Edie Daily, wife of a Hamilton Air Force Base officer, is a newcomer to Marin County bowling but she wouldn't know it by the score she hung up at Nave Lanes.

Mrs. Daily, who came with her husband to Novato from Florida less than a year ago, had a big 624 series topped by a 247 game in the TGIF League. Her other games were 192 and 185, well over her 174 average. Mrs. Daily a southpaw bowler is also a member of the national Women's 600 club.

Topping the scores from the men were Phil Dorr with a 627 (220-197-210) series in the 905 Travel League and Walt Silva with a 626 (231-204-190) set in the Nave Masters.

Raiders To Host Bills Tomorrow

OAKLAND (AP)—Winners in six of their last seven outings, the Oakland Raiders battle to continue their victorious ways and keep title hopes alive when they meet Buffalo's Bills on Thanksgiving Day.

Each team goes on short preparation, having played last Sunday when Oakland downed the Denver Broncos 17-3 and Buffalo upended Houston 42-20 to maintain the Eastern Division lead in the American Football League.

Overall, their records are similar with Buffalo at 7-3-1 and Oakland holding down second place in the Western group at 7-4, headed by Kansas City's Chiefs.

With veteran quarterback Tom Flores at the helm, the Raiders have come on fast after losing three of their first four games and the new successes could bring out a crowd of 50,000 in the Oakland Stadium.

Buffalo counts heavily on quarterback Jack Kemp who threw for two touchdowns and ran for another on Sunday.

Kemp has thrown 312 times and completed 130 of his passes for 1,880 yards and nine touchdowns.

downs. His passing brought 352 yards last Sunday.

Flores has hit on 102 of his 217 attempts for 1,834 yards and 17 touchdowns.

The kickoff is scheduled at noon for this only 1966 meeting between the Raiders and Bills.

Veteran Clem Daniels carries the rushing load for the home club while the Bills have been boosting Bobby Burnett as their candidate for rookie of the year. The halfback newcomer nears the 600 mark in rushing.

Although Houston did score 20 points, the previous three Buffalo foes had scored a total of only 26 or one less than nine per game.

And a comparison of the recent Houston games indicate a close one since Oakland downed the Oilers 38-23 on Nov. 6.

Green Mill Triumphs In Cage League

Green Mill crushed Dan Coleman Associates, 55-17, to highlight C 11 division play in the San Rafael Recreation Department Adult Basketball League yesterday.

Tito Valasco with 13 points paced the winners and Gene Majors had eight points for the losers.

In other C 11 play, J. Barth dumped Marin Kelly, 51-17, behind Joe McGrath's 21 points while James Cook had 10 for the losers.

Redmond Raiders, with 23 points from Willie Pierre and 18 from Ken Jeronello, tumbled Montgomery Wards, 60-32. Wally Duren had 10 points for the losers.

In B division play, San Francisco Theological Seminary got by Indian Valley Lumber, 55-46. Vern Alexander topped SFTS with 15 points while Buzz Keaton had 13 for Mill Valley.

DINING OUT

'Grand Old Bird' To Rule The Table

By HARRY CRAFT

Just the right tang of fall in the air will tempt many of tomorrow's Thanksgiving diners away from the home festive board and into Marin County restaurants.

Even a rainy holiday should not appreciably dampen the prospects of good attendance at the numerous eating places expected to remain open. And there is little doubt that the "grand old bird" will be number one feature attraction on all menus, with dressing, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce and pumpkin or mince pie as standard equipment.

Alternate entrees most likely to succeed are baked ham, chicken, lobster and steak. Varying according to the specialization of each dining and nationality of the restaurateur, other choices may even include such popular and savory offerings as veal scallopini, beef Bourguignon, natur schnitzel or Mandarin duck.

Accompanying potatoes may be baked, French fried or au gratin; available desserts could include anything from spumone to a soufflé, crepes or ginger ice cream.

The general tendency among restaurants is to place Thanksgiving on a "holiday menu" basis with four or five selections, though some kitchens are willing to give their full menu service.

Each Thanksgiving there is a slight change in restaurants deciding to remain open or taking advantage of the holiday—but if your favorite dinery played to a full house last year, the odds are in favor of a repeat performance. Phone ahead to be sure and also to make a reservation—particularly if your dining time is scheduled during the later hours.

Actual proportions of openings and closings will be about equal. This means there should be 50 or more restaurants remaining open throughout the county, with most geographical areas represented. The list would be too long to present here in its entirety, giving menus and hours of service.

The average turkey dinner with all the trimmings—and most alternate selections—will be priced between $3.45 and $5. Haut dineries may go as high as $7.50; those of lesser mien, $3 or lower. Middle range of steak dinners will be slightly higher than for turkey.

Dining room hours will vary from opening at noon, 1, 2, 3 and in some instances 6 p.m. The peak period is from about 6 to 9 and for those hours it is again recommended that advance reservations be made.

Boy Hit By Auto

Brian Donald Rohan, 7, 100 Lower Casitas, Greenbrae, a pupil at Wolfe Grade School, was treated Monday at Marin General Hospital for back injuries after being hit by a car being driven from the school parking lot by Mrs. Helen Audrey Davidson, 50, of 5 Corte Allegre, Greenbrae at 12:25 p.m., the California Highway Patrol reported.

African School Asks For Books

A plea for books has come out of a small school in southern Ethiopia.

In a letter to the Independent Journal, Lewis D. Junior, first secretary of the American Embassy in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, said Ras Desta School in the village of Yirga Alem, province of Siddamo, needs used books on mathematics, biology, geography, physiology, agriculture, history, geology and art.

Junior added, however, that the young Ethiopian who runs the school will accept any book useful to his students.

The secretary asked that books be sent to him through A.P.O. New York 09319 for forwarding to the school. He requests contributors sign the fly-leaves of the books as gifts to the students.

Board Orders Compromise

Tiburon city engineer Ray Foreaker and property owner Don Nelson were directed Monday night by Tiburon's Board of Design Review to work out a compromise solution to splitting one lot into two.

Nelson's steep lot containing 22,657 square feet, off Spanish trail Road, will be split with access easements brought as close to city standards as possible, the board decided after lengthy discussion.

A preliminary plan for El Marinero Unit 2, a 19-parcel subdivision, was approved.

Novatan Offers Reward For Dog-Nappers' Arrest

A $100 reward for the arrest and felony conviction of an organized gang of dog thieves has been offered by Paul Brindel of Novato, in the wake of reports that dog and cat nappers have expanded operations into Marin.

Last week a white pickup truck and camper appeared in San Rafael and a young man in white overalls was seen to take a dog from a yard on Fifth Avenue.

Yesterday San Rafael police had a call from the Bret Harte area where a panel truck with "coffee" hand-lettered on the side was believed to be picking up dogs. Police were unable to locate the truck.

Mel L. Morse, director of Marin County Humane Society, has warned residents to notify police or sheriff's officers immediately if they see animals being picked up, by anyone other than the society's aluminum trucks. The dogs and cats are sold for medical research. Brindel, whose home is located on Maestro Road, named after a Norwegian Elkhound he once owned, said Novato has long been considered the dog capital of Marin. "It has more dog and cat kennels than any other community, and the first G.I. loan in Novato, made in 1946, went to Romar Kennels at 402 Indian Springs Road," Brindel said.

"Unless a dog is valued at more than $200 its theft is a misdemeanor," he said, "but if two or more people are involved it becomes a conspiracy and a felony."

Bolinas School Rooms Proposed

Addition of six classrooms to Bolinas School will be recommended tonight to Bolinas-Stinson School District trustees by their planning committee. The committee also will recommend abandonment of one unsafe room at Stinson Beach School and renovation and conversion to offices of two unsafe rooms at Bolinas School.

Trustees will meet at 7:30 p.m. at Stinson Beach School.

The committee was named to determine district needs when trustees set a February bond election to replace three rooms that failed to meet earthquake-resistance standards of the state's Field Act. Amount of the bond issue must be set by the end of the month to meet the deadline for a February election.

County Leases More Mental Health Space

Marin County supervisors yesterday authorized lease of additional space for the county's community mental health offices at 710 D Street in San Rafael, doubling the space and increasing monthly rental from $385 to $772 a month.

The expansion is needed due to new federal assistance treatment programs authorized by supervisors in budget deliberations in June.

$25,000 Dog Suit On File

A suit asking $25,000 damages for an alleged assault by two dogs on Oct. 22, 1965, was filed yesterday in Marin Superior Court on behalf of Linda Curry, 9-year-old daughter of Sheriff's Deputy Alfred Curry of Novato. It charges Ruth Margaret Olson, 1040 Sixth Street, Novato, with negligent care of the dogs which resulted in their attacking and biting the girl on the sidewalk in the 1000 block of Sixth Street.

Bradley Holbrook is president of the Inverness Improvement Assn.

Marin Families To Enjoy Holiday

By MOLLY MARIN

Tomorrow is the big day for dinners throughout Marin.

Among those having family Thanksgiving dinner parties in Sausalito will be the Carl Springs and John Koenigs Jr. The Springs' guests will be nine relatives from the East Bay and friends in Sausalito who will hear exciting news about the Springs' trip to South America and Antarctica.

With the Koenigs and their three sons will be Mrs. Koenig's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Finn of San Rafael, with their two children; her aunt, Miss Lois Finn of Sacramento; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Niederholzer of Kentfield, and Mr. Koenig's mother, Mrs. John Koenig of Sausalito.

THANKSGIVING DINNER guests at the Mill Valley home of Dr. and Mrs. William Pemberton will be Dr. Pemberton's nephew, Kent Andrews of San Diego, and Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Pearson and their son, Tony, from Los Angeles.

TAKING TIME OUT to prepare Thanksgiving dinner from her new duties as over-all chairman of 25 committees working on the beautification of Mill Valley will be Mrs. Jeffery Morshead. With the Morsheads and their sons, James, Elliot and Donald will be Mrs. Morshead's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Townsend of Mill Valley.

MR. AND MRS. Hans Randup of Bel-Mar Keys have invited their two sons and their wives and grandchildren to be with them. They are Mr. and Mrs. Chris Randup and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Randup.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Allen will have their sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Riendo Allen, and Mr. and Mrs. Rene Allen, join them for holiday dinner at their home. Entertaining with a festive Thanksgiving dinner is Mrs. Rita Zaro and her son, Bruce, with her son, Greg, just back from Japan. Guests will be Dr. and Mrs. William Barclay Jones of Burlingame, with their sons, Bill who has just returned from Heidelberg University, and Mike who has also been abroad.

MR. AND MRS. Jack Maillet will have their daughter Linda home with her husband, Brice Sullivan. Also her father, William McCready and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Maillet to spend the holidays with them.

The Carl Wandts, also of Bel-Mar Keys, will entertain at Thanksgiving for his parents, the Carl Wandts of Santa Cruz.

DEBUTANTE Martha Drexler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Drexler of Mill Valley, will be honored at a breakfast to be given Sunday by Mrs. William Pemberton and Mrs. Rodney B. Hartman, both of Mill Valley. Some 40 friends of the debutante and her parents have been invited to attend the breakfast which will take place at 10:30 a.m. at La Petite Auberge in San Rafael.

SHARING THANKSGIVING with two patients at the Veterans' Hospital in San Francisco are the Robert Bagnalls of Belvedere. Mrs. Bagnall's aunt, Mrs. Arthur Waltz of San Francisco, will be with the family, and their eldest daughter Nancy, an airline stewardess is going to be home for the holiday.

IN BELVEDERE for Thanksgiving is Mrs. Peter Witter (Susie Hoefer) with her two young sons, Joel, 3, and Ian, five months old. They flew out from New Haven, Conn. where Peter is a student at the Yale School of Architecture. Susie and the little boys are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoefer, and will greet other family members at Thanksgiving dinner in Belvedere.

THE BASIL KNAUTHS of Belvedere are especially grateful this Thanksgiving to have their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Mac Lachlan of Berkeley with them for a quiet family celebration. Both young people were injured in a motor scooter accident in Berkeley on Oct. 23, and Natalie has just been released from Herrick Memorial Hospital where she has been receiving care for severe head injuries. The couple were married in Belvedere on July 25 at one of the summer's most fashionable weddings. Guests left St. Stephen's Church by motorized cable car to attend the reception at the Knauth home on the Belvedere Lagoon, and the newlyweds paddled a canoe across the lagoon when they departed for their honeymoon trip to Hawaii.

AN EVENTFUL late November is in store for Dr. and Mrs. Benton Mathews and their family. Their oldest son, Stephen, will marry Sally Hickman at ceremonies in Aurora, Ill. on Saturday. Their second son, Peter, now studying dentistry in Nashville, Tenn. will join them in Aurora and will be his brother's best man. Mrs. Peter Mathews will be a bridesmaid. The younger boys, Bill and Jody will be ushers. Aurora is also the home town of Sally Mathews, who will have a brief reunion with her parents Mr. and Mrs. William B. Greene at Thanksgiving. The Greens have bought a house in Belvedere, which they intend to use as a winter residence.

Belvedere friends will have an opportunity to greet the newlyweds at a reception which Dr. and Mrs. Mathews will give from 6 to 8 p.m. Nov. 29. Then Lt. Stephen Mathews will take his bride to Japan where he is stationed with the Air Force.

BILLIE KAY WALDROP of Scottsdale, Ariz. arrived in Novato last evening and she will be married at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church on Friday to Ralph Korstad of Scottsdale. Billie, the daughter of Maj. (ret.) and Mrs. Wilfred Waldrop of Novato will be fed at a bridal shower tonight by two former Novato High School classmates, Robin Kelley and Sue Hetrick, at the Hetrick home. Attending the shower and here for the wedding is Miss Kay Seiler of Pittsburgh, Pa., godmother of Billie Kay.

PLANNING A Christmas cruise to Hawaii are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Colvan of Belvedere. They sail on the Lurline Dec. 20 for Honolulu, then visit various islands in the Hawaiian group, going ashore in the day to see points of interest and returning to the ship each evening.

IT'S A NEW daughter for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Peterson of Lucas Valley. The baby girl, named Karen Ann, is the daughter of the former Nancy Simons, who was a member of the United States Olympic Swimming team which competed in Melbourne, Australia in 1956. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Simons of Belvedere.

PEG BRACKEN of Bolinas, author of the "I Hate To Cook Book" and "I Hate To House-keep Book," has decided to forego her syndicated newspaper column in order to devote more time to the book she is now writing.

GAZPACHO, THE COLD Spanish soup-salad made from a family recipe, was served at a luncheon at the Greenbrae home of Mrs. Howard R. Friesen recently, concluding a tour by University of California Extension Daytime Program staff members of studios and classrooms where classes were inaugurated this fall. Starting in Mill Valley at the Ann O'Hanlon studio, with a visit to the new Mill Valley Library enroute from there to the Art and Garden Center in Ross, the group next went to the San Anselmo studio of Melvin and Karla Moss, and from there to the Civic Center.

ON THE CALENDAR for Dec. 3 is a dinner party to be hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Weed of Belvedere. The preholiday affair will be a gathering of old friends.

SHARING THANKSGIVING dinner will be four generations at the Novato home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Hudson Ballard. Guests will include Mrs. Ballard's mother, Mrs. Quincy Scott of Portland, Ore.; Dr. Peter C. Scott of Santa Cruz, grandson of Mrs. Scott, and his wife and small daughters, Jill and Heather.

Dr. Scott is a post-doctoral fellow in biochemistry at the University of California at Santa Cruz. The senior Mrs.

Scott is a well known artist in the Northwest for her marine and western landscapes.

THANKSGIVING at home is traditional for most families, but Dr. and Mrs. William J. Ferguson and their children have usually gone to the snow for the holiday. This year they will be together at their home on the Belvedere Lagoon. Roberta Ferguson's mother, Mrs. Clarence Wynne of Los Angeles, will be visiting and their son, Bob, will be home from the University of California to join his brothers, Bill and Tom, and sister, Betsy, around the festive board.

THE EDWARD DAVISES and their daughter, Laurie, 9, returned to Sausalito Wednesday from a month in the Far East. They flew first to Japan, where they make Tokyo their base for trips in the area. In Tottori they were happy to visit Yuri Morita, who had lived with them a year while he was an American Field Exchange student attending Lick-Wilmerding School in San Francisco with their son, Charles.

They were in Kyoto for two weeks, visited Taipei and spent a week each in Hong Kong, Bangkok and Singapore before returning home via Honolulu. In Kyoto they were surprised to meet their friends, the William Obatas of Mill Valley, and also unexpectedly saw Mr. Obata in both Bangkok and Hong Kong.

HOLIDAYS AHEAD

Joanne Nelson designs a delicately feminine approach to after-five occasions in a dress of petal-soft pastel "Naked Wool" crepe. Squared, shoulder-baring bodice strung on spaghetti-thin straps, is accented by bias-cut flow of fabric with inverted Y-seaming at front. Skirt flares gracefully in a fluid ripple of movement below seam-detailing.

The proceeds of this project will go to assist Shin Oh Kyu, a freshman enrolled in a livestock veterinary course at Kyong Puk University in Korea. Mr. Shin, 21, has been active in 4-H Club work for the past seven years. He organized the Ahn Dong Gun 4-H Club, has served as secretary and vice president of the Ahn Dong Gun 4-H Federation. He has attended the American-Korean Foundation's 4-H Junior Leaders Short Course Training. At present he is president of the 4-H Research Group in Kyong Puk University.

Serving on the benefit committee are Mesdames James A. Graddy, president; Harold V. Molloy, chairman; Connie Car-pou, decorations; Leonard Fisher, food; Charles Dechent and Charles Worman, publicity; Reginald Jones, tickets and Willard R. Follmer, hostesses.

Hostesses will be Mesdames M. T. Anderson, William McCarthy, H. E. Stommel, James Sullivan and new members Mesdames Barry MacKay, George McCormick, Charles Dechent, Guy Cole, Lawrence Frate, Hank Lamp and Willard Follmer.

Deanna Jackson Zane Bride Of Allen E. Vickers Of Mill Valley

Deanna Jackson Zane and Allen Eugene Vickers, both of Mill Valley, were married Saturday morning in an 11 o'clock ceremony at the Swedenborgian Church in San Francisco.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Zane of San Francisco, was given in marriage by her father in the single ring nuptial rites performed by the Rev. Othmar Tobisch. Relatives and close friends only attended.

She recited her vows wearing a bone wool suit with mink collar and matching accessories. Maid of honor was her sister, Virginia D. Zane of Mill Valley, who wore a green wool suit with olive accessories.

Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mrs. Lola Vickers of Exeter, was John Kerby Anderson of Mill Valley.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Metropolitan Club in San Francisco. The couple left afterward for a motor trip along the Northern California coast. They will live in Tiburon.

The bride attended the University of California at Santa Barbara and was graduated from the University of Oregon with a degree in the history of art. She is employed as a personnel assistant with the California Packing Corp. in San Francisco. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Pearl Arndt of San Francisco.

The bridegroom attended Fresno State College and California Polytechnic College and served three years in the U.S. Army. He is employed as comptroller at the Homestead Savings and Loan Co. in Sausalito.

MR. AND MRS. JEFFREY STEVEN TUEL of Novato exchanged vows at the Evangelical Free Church in Petaluma on Saturday. Mrs. Tuel is the former Sue Ellen Westlund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Westlund of Novato. (Russ Booth photo)

WOMEN'S NEWS PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A new guide for press chairmen who are interested in getting news into the Marin Women's Society Section of the Independent-Journal is now available in the San Rafael, Mill Valley, Tiburon and Novato offices of the newspaper.

The booklet "Getting News Into Your Newspaper" is to assist press chairmen for Marin women's organizations.

Features in the guide tell how to handle stories and picture requests.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained at the switchboard.

Lagan Institute Plans Celebration

Members of Lagan Institute YLI will celebrate its 62nd birthday on Nov. 29 with dinner at La Petite Auberge San Rafael. Honored guests will be the Rev. Miles Riley, charter member Catherine Timony and Institute Deputy Miss Claire Skidmore.

Co-chairmen Miss Mildred Young and Mrs. Emil Boracchia are working on decorations.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

He Charges That Women Spend Too Much Time On The Details

DEAR HELEN:

I've got it figured out. The reason you women, most of you anyway, don't make it big isn't that you have fewer brains, but that you waste them on little things.

I watched my wife cut out a dress pattern the other night. She had material to spare. Now any man would put the pieces on the cloth and cut, not worrying about where they went, just say there was enough material. Not my wife — and she says most women are the same. She spent an hour figuring out angles to save maybe a half yard of cheap cotton — which she'll put away in a drawer and probably never use.

I asked her why, and she said it made her feel "worthy."

She does the same thing in the kitchen. Other night she was proud as punch because she'd ground up parsley in the blender and frozen it. Took her an hour, counting the time she spent in cleaning the parsley out of the blades — and she can buy it dried almost as cheap. At the most, she saved about 10 cents for an hour's work.

Why don't you dames realize time is more important than the little things you waste it on?

— MAN OF THE FAMILY

DEAR MAN:

Why don't you men realize that "little things" are the biggest things in a wife-and-mother's life? We have a great need to feel "worthy"; our small triumphs over patterns, parsley, etc., prove how ingenious we are. We know it isn't "smart" to spend an hour or two making or saving something we could buy for a quarter, but we enjoy the strictly female sense of accomplishment it brings.

Happy Thanksgiving from DERVIN FORD

— NOVATO —
Hwy. 101 ½ Blk. N. of Grant Ave.

Must be a throwback to our pioneer ancestors — or something. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I would like to answer the letter signed "Happily Married," who blasts divorcees. I am not the "Divorcee" who wrote the first letter (which she answered) but a somewhat different breed.

I have been divorced 10 years. My alimony does not go on stylish clothes, fancy hairdos, etc., but on rent, utilities, medical bills, and child care. We have lived on hamburger and other cheap items, and I am still wearing the clothes I had before he left — to marry another woman. My children are outfitted by my sewing machine, and I wait for fabric sales.

H.M. says that married men are not the ones that make passes. She'd better not be so sure of her husband! I have had propositions from more married men than single ones — it seems they feel safer, dating when they are married: no entanglements. The quiet husbands who tell their wives all about the schemes gay divorcees hatch to trap them are the ones to be watched. They're "frank and honest" sneaks.

I won't say I haven't dated married men. I enjoy a good lunch, and good talk . . . and this is what men date us divorcees for, often. We aren't ravishingly beautiful or seductive — but we CAN talk about world situations and we listen intelligently.

Speaking for myself and three other divorced women in my age bracket (35ish) we actually prefer to remain single than take a chance on another roving husband who won't fix the screens or paint the garage, and takes a two hour lunch to get his playing done.

Many's the time I have asked a woman friend, "Don't you ever wonder if your husband is running around?" to hear, "Not my man." Then on the way home (she volunteers her husband to take me home), we make a date for lunch next day, so we discuss world situations and the sweet little wife.

— GLAD TO BE FREE

DEAR GLAD:

Let's amend both letters to read: A married rover-boy makes passes if the divorcee looks passable; but all husbands aren't rover-boys — and all divorcees don't take a woman friend's hospitality and her husband in one operation. Aren't you ashamed of yourself? — H.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

"While you're examining me, I'll have my widow make you a cup of coffee."

MIT FLOWERS

Designers Blossom Forth In Three-Dimensional Look

NEW YORK (UPI) —The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra la, already have blossomed on Seventh Avenue, the nation's garment center.

Extravagant, often abstract looking, floral prints are the rule with leading manufacturers of women's ready-to-wear. Some of the pace setting designers go even further, with artificial flowers dropping all over the place, so elegantly done they look like the real thing and give a three-dimension effect to dresses, hats or the hair.

Geoffrey Beene, twice a winner of the American Fashion Critics Award, does floor length formals covered from neckline to within inches of the hem with assorted colors and varieties of flowers. Other Beene designs in short of floor length versions for evening feature brilliantly printed silks.

THE BEENE SILHOUETTE, prophetic of shapes to come, is called the "inverted stem glass," actually a skinny look at the top and widening gradually, in an unbroken line, to the hem.

Beene's show, playing to a packed house even on its final day, was among the last in a schedule-jammed three weeks series of openings of spring collections for the nation's store buyers.

Showing last week also were such trend-setters as John Moore, the Texas-born designer who makes some of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's clothes; Gustave Tassell, also twice a winner of the critics' award; Talmack, whose designer Dominic Toubex, Paris-born, won his first Critics' Award this year; and Pauline Trigere and Ferdinando Sarmi, who've won so many of the awards they've been elevated to a "hall of fame" and out of competition.

MOORE'S COLLECTION was greeted repeatedly with applause from buyers. Among his hits were his picture hats, masses of artificial flowers covering wire frames, some of the brims droopy enough to hide some of the face. The flowers, so expertly done they looked genuine, were a multi-mixture of colors and varieties and the hats were shown with basic short black crepe afternoon or cocktail dresses.

He used the am three dimension floral treatment to make wristlength sleeves for a floor length silk crepe formal.

War On Poverty's Future Still Dark

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Confidential information, a threat and a doubtful future came out in a story told to county supervisors yesterday.

The story was about the War on Poverty in Marin and the confidential information and the threat allegedly came from the federal government's Office of Economic Opportunity.

The future of all War on Poverty programs in the county was left in doubt as the board of supervisors continued consideration until next Tuesday.

Current programs are the administration group in the Marin City target area, where seven are employed, the unwed mothers and teen-age couples assistance program operated by the county YWCA, and the study center program operated by the Bay Area Social Planning Council.

RENEWAL UNLIKELY

Federal support for these will terminate at the end of this month. County Administrator Alan Bruce said that "confidential sources" reported the 90 per cent financing for the YWCA and planning council programs will probably not be renewed.

This information came out of a meeting in San Francisco two weeks ago, when OEO agents met with county representatives with the understanding that information given out would not be made public.

PAY NOT LEGAL

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said there was no legal way these could be paid from county funds, since the board never authorized the expenditures.

However, Bruce told the board late in the day, that Breiner had been paid $288 in July through an error by the county auditor's office.

Early in the afternoon, Kaye Hunt of the YWCA told the board there was some question of continuing the program for unwed mothers since there were only three applicants since the start of last April.

However, when she returned to a second discussion later in the afternoon, she said there were four new applicants.

STUDY CENTERS

Florence Scott of the social planning council said the study centers, operated with aid of the Sausalito and Tamalpais High School districts, have proved extremely successful in helping youngsters. Supervisors agreed that the study center was of high priority.

The board will discuss next week whether to put up $6,000 to keep both these programs going through January. By then, some answer is expected from the federal government.

MARIN CITY HELP

Both Sanford and Bruce, however, told the board it appeared likely the Marin City target area administration program would receive further funds and that $31,000 previously allocated for a "total enrichment program" that never got started, could be used to support the Marin City staff for a time.

Sanford was to take application for this money to the San Francisco regional office of the OEO today. Supervisors should

San Pedro Road Joint Talks Sought

Marin County supervisors will seek a joint session with the San Rafael City Council on alignment of further widening of San Pedro Road.

Supervisors yesterday were not too hopeful of reaching accord with the city. "We probably won't even be able to get them to agree to a date," declared chairman Byron W. Leydecker, long at odds with the city fathers.

County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost told the board that right-of-way must be purchased from 28 properties along the south side of San Pedro Road in city territory, if one possible alignment is followed. Under another choice, taking property from both sides of the present route, there would be several more properties involved. The north side of the road is in county territory.

"I suggest we send out a dove," Supervisor Peter H. Behr suggested.

"We've lost more damn doves in that direction," Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said.

The supervisors and the council were at odds over the first phase of the joint widening project when the council refused to agree to demanding undergrounding of utility lines by Pacific Gas and Electric and Pacific Telephone.

STREETS REMIND IT'S THAT TIME

Christmas street decorations went up in downtown San Rafael yesterday, the result of a drive for contributions by the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce. Mike Willis (top) and William Prock of Pioneer Flag and Decoration Co., San Francisco, installed wreaths on light standards. (Independent-Journal photo)

Supervisors Ready To Act On Antenna

Marin County supervisors are ready to approve an ordinance that would franchise community television antenna services in Marin with 2 per cent of the gross receipts going to the county.

Final action, however, was delayed a week yesterday to allow inclusion of a clause that would assure equal distribution of all signals that can be received. This was suggested by Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, who envisioned a situation where one station might become controversial in the eyes of a system operator and be blocked out.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said the franchise would include an indemnity or insurance provision to protect the county in case of suit infringement of copyright. This is due to a recent court case in which the system distribution of signals was judged an infringement.

The franchise will be issued to all who can meet the requirements, but the encroachment problem will still limit competition. Cables are put on utility poles and the utility companies allow only one cable per area.

Supervisors Refuse Road Dedication

Marin County supervisors yesterday refused to make dedication to the state for highway widening, a condition of approval for Diaz Ranch development.

The condition was among recommendations by the County Planning Commission on both the master plan for the 172-acre development west of Mill Valley and the precise development plan for the first unit of 22 acres with 77 residential units.

Supervisors decreed that if the state should widen Shoreline Highway along the southern border of the development, the state should pay the developer, Alfred J. Stern, for the property needed.

The board retained the condition that Stern have approval from both the Local Agency Formation Commission and a sanitary district for annexation before any grading permit can be issued.

Cove Players Present Their Tommie Awards

Following the final performance of "The Little Hut," the Tiburon Cove Players presented their annual Tommie Awards for those who contributed to the production.

Receiving awards were Virginia Wagner, who served as script girl; Marcella Elliot for her work with wardrobes, and Peter Fitz Hugh for his work with the sound.

There are more than 1300 hot springs in North America.

Visitors Bureau Asks For Full Allocation

The Marin Visitors Bureau, supported largely by county tax funds, is in financial trouble and has asked the full county allocation for fiscal 1967 to get out of trouble.

However, county supervisors yesterday wanted more information before approving the $9,667 requested.

A total of $14,500 was budgeted by the county for the bureau, and the first installment of $4,833 has been paid. Further payments were to hinge on reports of bureau activities.

Other bureau income has included $880 in membership dues. The bureau has negotiated a $1,500 bank loan, according to a letter to supervisors from A. L. Nieri, first vice president of the bureau.

The request came up late yesterday and no one from the bureau was present to answer questions of the supervisors. They put the request over until next Tuesday.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Set closed meetings for 9 a.m. Dec. 5 and 7 to "evaluate" 14 appointed department heads. Results of the "evaluation" will determine whether the department heads will get raises Jan. 1. The board has been told by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney that this procedure is illegal, but set the meetings anyway.
2. Approved rezoning of 36 acres of McNear's Point from manufacturing to single-family residential with quarter-acre lot minimums and 13 acres from resort-commercial recreation to planned residential to allow cluster housing with a maximum density of eight units per acre. The changes were asked by Draper Co.
3. Hired Barbara K. Renfort at $399 a month as senior clerk typist in the county clerk's office; Michael Oster at $619 a month as deputy probation officer; Bruce Klopstock at $345 a month as general apprentice; and Volina D. Thompson at $590 a month as junior accountant in the public works department.
4. Denied the claim for $100,000 of John S. Kean of Albany, who was struck by a car at Lincoln Avenue and Linden Lane in San Rafael Aug. 21. He said a badge, maintained either by the county or the City of San Rafael, prevented the driver from seeing him in time.
5. Declared surplus an old swivel chair from the coroner's office and a meat cutting block from the juvenile hall.
6. Authorized $8,000 for right-of-way purchase for the county's share of the East Blithedale Avenue widening project in Mill Valley, to start in one or two months.
7. Authorized transfer of $3,000 from reserves to the witness fee fund in the district attorney's office, which has been depleted due to higher than expected number of trials.
8. Appointed Ray W. Foreaker Jr. of San Rafael, a civil engineer, to the Marin County Board of Building Code Appeals, replacing Gordon A. Phillips, who resigned.
9. Appointed Mrs. Dorothy Gorman of Strawberry to the Citizens Advisory Committee for older adults.
10. Agreed with the request of Marin Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, that the cornerstone in the county courthouse should be preserved. Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker suggested the contents be displayed in some kind of sealed case and supervisors asked that the idea be studied.
11. Authorized purchase of two road rollers from Stevens Equipment Co. at $11,880; a four-wheel loader from Clark Equipment Co. at $15,104; an air compressor from Rix Co. at $3,581; two street pull brooms from Edward R. Bacon Co. at $5,229; and loader-back hoe from California Tractor Co. at $7,904, all after competitive bidding.
12. Authorized a Youth in Government program planned by the county YMCA, which will include a mock election during Easter vacation and a mock board of supervisors meeting in April.
13. Adjourned at 6 p.m. in memory of President John F. Kennedy, killed three years ago yesterday.

Military Funds Above Estimate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military spending for the current fiscal year could exceed $63 billion — almost $6 billion more than the administration forecast last January—Treasury figures show.

A monthly Treasury statement shows also that the government ended the first four months of the current fiscal year with a deficit of almost $13 billion, partly because of increased spending for the war in Viet Nam.

The statement says military spending for the first four months of the fiscal year — July through October — reached $21,023,798,494. If the trend continues, military spending could exceed the estimates by nearly $6 billion.

Mental Health Data Policy On Agenda

The propriety of divulging information about patients will be discussed at 8 p.m. today by the Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board in the blue room of Marin General Hospital.

The board also will discuss funding of the Community Mental Health Center, a contract for clinical director, and operations of the county's community mental health services.

Crackdown On Moonshiners

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Viet Nam appears worried that too many drunks may spoil the Communist revolution.

Radio Hanoi announced that President Ho Chi Minh signed a law Oct. 27 cracking down on moonshiners and alcoholics. The broadcast said the decree was necessary to "the building of socialism and the anti-U.S. struggle for national salvation."

Radio Hanoi gave no estimate of the number of alcoholics in the nation of 17 million.

ORDINANCE NO. 539 (NOT CODIFIED)
CITY OF SAN ANSELMO
AN ORDINANCE ANNEXING CERTAIN LANDS TO THE CITY OF SAN ANSELMO BEING TWO LOTS IN THE SHORT RANCH SUBDIVISION AND DESIGNATED AS THE ALINI & MCARDLE ANNEXATION.
The City Council of the City of San Anselmo do ordain as follows:
Section 1. The following described real property is hereby annexed to the City of San Anselmo:
Commencing at a point which is distant N. 52°-05' W. 210.93 feet, and N. 51°-51' E. 104.73 feet from the most Westerly corner of Lot 339, as said lot is shown on that certain map entitled "Map of the City of San Anselmo," filed July 3, 1912 in Bk. 4 of Maps at page 22, in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, and extending to a point in the City of San Anselmo, the said City limits of the City of San Anselmo, and the present City Boundary; running thence along said line of Pasadena Avenue and present City Boundary, South 5°-51' West; 38 feet; to the intersection of the City Boundary and the Eastern line of Pasadena Avenue; thence S 51°-00' E, 164' more or less, to the City Boundary to the point of commencing; said area being that portion of the lands of ALINI & MCARDLE lying outside the present City limits of the City of San Anselmo.
Section 2. The City Clerk shall prepare, under seal, a certified copy of this ordinance giving the date of its passage and forward the same to the Secretary of State, pursuant to section 35316 of the Government Code.
Section 3. The annexation herein was accomplished pursuant to section 35300 et seq. of the Government Code and the City Clerk finds that all mandatory provisions thereof were lawfully performed.
Section 4. This ordinance shall be published once in full within fifteen (15) days from and after its passage and adoption in the "Independent Journal," a daily newspaper of general circulation published in the County of Marin, and shall be in full force and effect as of the date the City Clerk shall file the same in the office of the Secretary of State.
The foregoing ordinance was duly and regularly introduced at a regular meeting of the City Council of the City of San Anselmo, held in said City on the 15 day of November, 1966, duly passed and adopted by the following vote:
AYES: COUNCILMEM: Scott, Capurro, Ragan, Smith, Reichmuth.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Pregnancy After 50 Rare; 26 Normal Births Recorded

Pregnancy after 50 is rare, and more so, among women after the menopause. A Baltimore obstetrician reviewed the medical literature from 1850 to the present and found only 26 authentic cases of women who delivered normal babies after age 50.

Many more were reported but the majority of births occurred to women in the backwoods area where vital statistics were inaccurate or the story was based on hearsay.

Two women of 46 and 48 are the oldest on record at the Chicago Lying-In Hospital where more than 50,000 women have been delivered. The oldest among 65,000 deliveries at Johns Hopkins hospital gave her age as 49 but she was feeble-minded and may not have known her correct age.

MODERN VITAL statistics tabulations are only as good as the persons who put the material in the computers. A report in Monthly Vital Statistics, 1962, indicated that 110 mothers aged 50 years and over, gave birth to live infants during that year. The National Center for Health Statistics investigated all the cases reported. Actually there were only 55 records involved because the reports are based on a 50 per cent sampling.

Of the 55 records for 1962, 16 were punched incorrectly. The ages ranged from 15 to 40 but the punch cards ranged from 51 to 93 years of age. Some figures were transposed (51 instead of 15), or punched incorrectly (56 for 36).

ON QUESTIONING the remaining 39 cases, 17 were found to be in error; in 15, the investigation was inconclusive. Seven certificates were verified but there was still doubt about all of them. Two children were adopted by parents believed to be at least 50 years of age. The scientists concluded that of the 55 births originally counted there was no absolutely decisive evidence that a single one occurred to a mother who was even 50 years old.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if a stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

DIZZY AFTER DRIVING
H. G. writes: Can you advise why I get dizzy after driving 250 to 300 miles? The dizziness occurs when I get out of the car. I feel as if I were sitting on a rock-breaker, shaking all over.

REPLY

It is not unusual to become dizzy after sitting in a strained position for hours while traveling at a lively clip. Poor circulation or an ear disturbance also may play a role.

RELAXES ON FLOOR

G. M. writes: I like to lie on the floor on my back when I'm tired and tense. This relaxes me and I sometimes fall asleep. But my friends warn me about the practice, saying it is harmful. What do you say?

REPLY

It is not harmful if your bones can take it. You should be envious for your ability to relax so completely.

LIPOMA NOT MALIGNANT

Mrs. K. writes: Must a lipoma near the shoulder blade be removed in a 74-year-old woman?

REPLY

No, as these tumors are not malignant. Removal is recommended when the lipoma is unsightly, presses upon other structures, or is irritated by the clothing.

DRINKING PAINS

L. Y. writes: Why is it my sciatica bothers me only when I drink whisky?

REPLY

This stumps me, unless you get frisky after drinking and neglect to protect your back. Maybe you have gout or alcoholic neuritis instead of sciatica.

Today's Health Hint — Antibiotics must be used properly or not at all.

For Marin, the world's fastest reporting

We tied up the globe in the I-J's new electronic tape to show there's something new in the world of news reporting in your daily I-J.

For that tape "speaks" a new electronic language which we take directly from the Associated Press sports wire, rather than news in the form of teletyped copy.

We feed this tape into a battery of new Elektron linotypes which "read" the little perforations and change impulses into words, set in metal. All at speeds Buck Rogers never dreamed of.

Result: MORE NEWS in less time and LATER NEWS . . . giving you a sports section with more depth and complete world coverage.

These electronic speed demons also enable us to bring you the closing prices of our New York Stock List TODAY, instead of tomorrow. And to print the entire weekly range of ALL New York stocks in our Saturday edition.

Just another way of advancing the I-J to further your reading enjoyment.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Courts Protect Today's Seamen

In the early days employers often abused seamen, which led to mutiny or war and disruption of commerce. As a result, the government adopted a policy to protect seamen by making them government "wards."

Today it protects seamen and a few shore bound workers in

Ojai Stations Give Up Stamps

OJAI (AP) — You'll have to look hard to get trading stamps from service stations here.

Owners of 21 of the 23 stations said yesterday they'll no longer give them, using the money saved to raise wages of employees and profits of owners.

Ojai Valley stations charge a penny less per gallon than others in Ventura County, said Bill Patton, one of the owners. He said this has meant lower profits.

Owners made the decision because housewives have protested against trading stamps in markets, Patton said.

Youth Credited With Thwarting Span Leap

A Mill Valley youth was credited by the California Highway Patrol with saving the life of a 39-year-old San Francisco woman Monday night, when he prevented her from jumping from Golden Gate Bridge.

Philip Simpson, 17, of 440 Edgewood Avenue, was crossing the bridge at 8:40 p.m. when he saw a parked car in midspan and Mrs. Elizabeth Watson seated on the rail. He pulled her off and held her for the patrol. Mrs. Watson was taken to San Francisco General Hospital for observation.

Peace Corps Report

Vicki Emerson of Mill Valley will discuss her two-year Peace Corps tour in Turkey Tuesday at a "ladies' night" meeting of Mill Valley Lions Club at 7:30 p.m. at Mill Valley golf clubhouse.

working conditions, health, and accident protection.

Take wages: The Government can tie up a ship if its sailors have not received their pay.

Shipowners must provide maintenance and care for an injured or sick seaman, so long as his disability arose in connection with his employment regardless of who was at fault. Of course, no seaman is protected if his own wilful misconduct caused his sickness or injury or if he concealed his condition before he took the job.

Seamen need only prove that their injury happened while they were employed at sea or on shore.

Maintenance means daily living expenses to recover from an illness. The ship owner must give the care and cure, if necessary by putting his ship in port. Otherwise he will be liable for any aggravation of the illness or injury.

The shipowner also has to guarantee that his ship, its equipment, and crew are seaworthy. This ship must be a safe place to work. Failing this the shipowner is absolutely liable for the resulting injuries.

The doctrine of "seaworthiness" first applied in favor of shippers of cargo. It was later extended to seamen and now to longshoremen. A defective hull, an unsafe structure, bad equipment, or an unfit officer or crew can make the ship unseaworthy and the owner liable if there are injuries.

The Jones Act, Death on the High Seas Law, and the Long

Shoreman's Compensation Laws give further protection. The employer must give protection from assaults by other crewmen or by superior officers otherwise he is liable for the resulting personal injuries.

Protest Made To Park Funds

Guy E. Baty, chairman of the board of Marinwood Community Services District, made formal protest today over the grant of $10,000 in county funds to the Gallinas Village Community Services District for park development.

In a letter to county supervisors, Baty backed the view of the Marin County Park and Recreation Commission, which recommended against use of general county tax funds in development of a park which is the responsibility of a local district.

"As you may know," Baty wrote, "The residents of our community worked long and diligently to pass two bond issues totalling $456,000 in order to provide our residents with a minimum park and recreational facilities."

Prison Walkaway Nabbed In Ohio

A San Quentin inmate who escaped on foot from the prison's ranch dormitory on Nov. 6 has been recaptured in Bartonsville, Ohio.

Bobby Lee Kinchelov, 28, was held in Akron, Ohio, today on fresh burglary charges, said San Quentin Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

There was no report on his companion in the escape, James D. Kelly, 37, but San Quentin has sent descriptions to Ohio in case he's there.

Kinchelov had been convicted of passing bad checks and Kinchelov was serving a sentence for conspiracy to commit forgery.

Park said correctional officers will be sent to Ohio to pick up Kinchelov, but Ohio authorities may want to prosecute him first.

Police Book Youth On Two Charges

A 21-year-old Berkeley youth was booked last night at county jail by Sausalito police on charges of being drunk and possessing marijuana.

John Earl Mill was arrested at Main and Third Streets following a report from an unidentified caller that he was prowling the neighborhood and looking into cars.

San Quentin Stabbers Hurt Two

Two prisoners were stabbed in San Quentin prison early today—one in the back, the other several times in the side, hip and left arm. Both were reported in good condition at the prison hospital.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said Dwight E. Abbott, 24, serving time for burglary in Shasta County, and Donald F. Dunlop, 28, jailed for robbery in Los Angeles County and prison escape, were stabbed in the prison's south block at 8 a.m. by unidentified assailants.

Dunlop had a one-inch knife wound in his back, Abbott had two knife wounds in his left side, and three puncture wounds made with a sharpened rod, one in his hip and two in his arm.

Park said officials have no suspect in the assaults. He called both Abbott and Dunlop disciplinary problems, and said, "This is a situation that's been building up for some time. They are wheeler-dealers."

Commuter Help Asked Of Span Board, City

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District and the City of San Francisco should help financially in improving bus service between Marin and San Francisco, Thomas D. Hardcastle declared today.

Hardcastle, a Marin County director on the Golden Gate Bridge board, made the pitch at the bridge board meeting at the toll plaza.

"One way that the district can participate," said Hardcastle, "is for the district to purchase the buses." He said the district might also engage in a joint venture with the Marin County Transit District to provide improved bus service.

Hardcastle argued that improved bus service would help both the bridge district and the City of San Francisco by cutting down the number of automobiles going into the city.

L. E. Castner, president of the bridge district, referred Hardcastle's proposal to the committee affairs and finance committees.

Forest Knolls Marijuana Party Hit By Deputies

A group of young beatniks who apparently have been using a Forest Knolls summer residence as a marijuana pad were arrested last night and booked in county jail.

With the group at the home was the 4-year-old daughter of a woman not present when the raid occurred.

Booked for trespassing and suspicion of marijuana possession were Ronni Lynn Markil, 20, of Cintura Avenue, Lagunitas, Sally Ann Loremore, 19, no address, Howard Robert Kopelman, 20, of Berkeley, Thomas William Martin, 21, of Forest Knolls, and Matthew Stuart Lipka, 21, no address.

The child was turned over to a receiving home pending clarification of her parents' situation, according to the probation department.

Sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Florence H. Luce of 132 Ross Valley Road, San Rafael, learned yesterday that the group was using her vacant and unfurnished residence on Candelero Avenue in Forest Knolls.

She notified officers. They arrived to find the group sleeping on their own mattresses on the floors.

They also found a plastic bag containing what apparently is marijuana.

Mrs. Luce said today that the house's electricity has been shut off for several weeks. She said several people in the Forest Knolls area had informed her that the group was occupying her house.

The quintet remained in jail at noon today in lieu of $529 bail each.

Larkspur Pupils Shine In State Reading Tests

The Larkspur School District board learned last night that first and second grade pupils scored well above the state average on state reading tests given last May.

The district average score on the tests was 80 per cent of grade level, compared to a state average of 60 per cent, Supt. Milton S. Cohen said.

The board approved tuberculosis skin tests to be given to all pupils in February by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

The Larkspur School District also:

1. Learned that 40 pupils are participating in a special reading and mathematics program after regular school hours, financed by a $10,200 federal grant.
2. Appointed Trustee Curtis P. Kamai to the legislative committee of the Marin County School Boards Assn.
3. Approved a contract with the Kentfield School District for a joint program for nine "educationally handicapped" students.
4. Learned that a new reading laboratory is in use at Neil Cummins School, financed by a $4,000 federal grant.
5. Granted sabbatical leaves to teachers Helen Stewart and Douglas Lindauer.

Skornia Resigns Top Demo Post

Thomas A. Skornia of Ross resigned as chairman of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs, last night because of increasing work load as attorney and political writer.

Michael Healy of San Geronimo, vice chairman, will serve as acting chairman until an election is held.

The group met at the courthouse to appraise the November election results.

Tiburon Councilmen Talk Over Vacancy

In a special closed session last night, Tiburon City Council members discussed candidates for a vacancy on the parks and recreation commission left by Robert D. Singer, who is moving to New York.

Mayor John D. Hoffmire said today an appointment will probably not be announced before the council meeting next Monday. He said he was directed to talk with the candidates.

Firemen's Dance

Stinson Beach volunteer fireman will hold their annual harvest ball Saturday from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at Stinson Beach Community Center. Music will be by the Bratcani orchestra.

Marin City Youth In County Custody

James Allen Bullock, 21, of 20 Buckeye Street, Marin City, was booked last night at county jail by Sausalito police for being drunk and resisting arrest.

Bullock was arrested in the Two Turtles Bar, 688 Bridge-way, by acting Lt. James Wright and officer Michael Kielman. Before he was subdued and handcuffed, Bullock ripped off Kielman's shirt buttons and necktie, police said.

RONALD L. SAUL Studies flying, too

Father Gives Son Navy Oath

Lt. Cmdr. E. L. Saul didn't have any trouble with the name when he swore in a Navy enlistee last week in Oakland.

The enlistee was his son, Ronald L. Saul, who entered the Navy almost 24 years to the day after his father enlisted.

Commander Saul, of 587 Appleberry Drive, Lucas Valley, is director of the Special Projects Division, Military Sea Transportation Service, Pacific Area, which has its headquarters at the Naval Supply Center, Oakland.

Ronald, 20, hopes to enroll in the Navy Air Cadet program when he becomes eligible.

Both father and son are aviation enthusiasts who have started flight training at the Petaluma Sky Ranch with a view toward getting private flying licenses.

Ronald flew his first solo flight Oct. 23, and his father soloed two days later.

Hub Council Asks New Route 17 Study

The San Anselmo City Council last night recommended that the state study a new route for Highway 17 drawn by James McDonald of San Anselmo.

McDonald outlined his route for the council. It would be considerably farther south than any of the routes proposed by the State Division of Highways, and would go mainly through undeveloped watershed areas.

Starting at Alto, the route would go to the top of the Corte Madera Grade above Scott Valley, tunnel through the top of the Corte Madera Ridge and continue up the valley floor below Kent Woodlands. It would skirt the east side of Phoenix Lake, go west between Bald Mountain and Bon Tempe Lake, and to the top of Bolinas Road, following that road for about a mile. From there it would go to the undeveloped upper end of Cascade Valley, north from there on the west side of the Mount Tamarancho Boy Scout Camp, along the White's Hill Ridge. It would intersect Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Woodacre.

McDonald said from 15 to 100 homes would be affected by the route, but not a single commercial building.

The council voted 4-to-1 to ask the state to study the route as a scenic four-lane highway. Councilman Woodrow V. Capuro voted not saying he was against any new freeway or scenic route in Marin.

The council turned down a request by San Anselmo merchants that the city pay the $2,000 difference between the low bid for development of a city parking lot at Pine Street and San Anselmo Avenue and the $10,300 raised by the merchants for the lot.

The merchants originally agreed, when the city decided to buy the $60,000 parking lot, to pay the full development cost.

Councilman Robert M. Scott, who has been against the parking lot purchase since it was first proposed, said: "I think the merchants are playing poker with us. They'll come through with the money when they see we won't pay it. Why don't we tell them we're going to sell the lot?"

The council agreed that if the merchants could not raise the remaining money, the development plan would have to be cut down.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

1. Rezoned from commercial to multiple residential at 25 Ancha Vista Avenue, where Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen has a 34-unit apartment house. The rezoning was over Kettenhofen's written protest.
2. Gave Norman Gilroy two weeks to abate the nuisance of a house he and five others own at 21 Loma Robles Drive. The council said the building must be boarded up and made completely safe.

3. Decided to start abatement against an undermined tree in the creek at 18 Park Drive on property of Stanley Seiderman. If city engineer Charles R. Leit-zell cannot get Seiderman to have the tree trimmed before the next council session.

4. Referred an ordinance limiting cutting of trees to City Atty. John G. Buresh for his recommendation.

5. Supported a proposal that a county services area be set up to tax unincorporated areas for police services.

6. Passed an ordinance establishing fire zones.

No Action Taken On Novato Vacancies

The Novato City Council met in a closed session last night and for two and one-half hours discussed filling four vacancies on the city's two commissions, but took no action.

The terms of Wayne Hathaway and Samuel Young on the planning commission and Mrs. Helen Greving and James McConnell on the parks and recreation commission expire at the end of December.

Two Passengers Hurt In Accident

Two passengers were injured in an automobile accident in Seafirth, Tiburon, yesterday at 4:15 p.m.

Tiburon's sheriff's deputies reported a car heading downhill on Seafirth Road, driven by Geoffrey Temple Chapman, 16, of 70 Seafirth Road, met one entering the road from Seafirth Place, driven by Otis Pettigrew Heald, 69, of Falbrook, San Diego County.

Marc N. Allsman, 13, of 4071 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, a passenger in Chapman's car, and Hardol Oldenburg Nichols, 73, of Sun City, a passenger in Heald's car, were slightly injured but said they would see their own doctors.

Meeting Postponed

The regular meeting tomorrow of Bolinas Harbor Commission has been postponed because of Thanksgiving to Dec. 15 at 8 p.m. in Bolinas Community Center. The proposed master plan for Bolinas Lagoon is slated for further discussion.

Two-China U.N. Policy Pressed By Canadians

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Despite a new blast by Red China against the United Nations, Canada pushed today for the seating of both the Peking government and Nationalist China as part of a temporary solution to the China representation controversy.

Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin took note of the latest Peking statement in advancing his suggestion before the U.N. General Assembly. He departed from his prepared text briefly to say he was aware of the statements from Peking in the past 24 hours. But he did not comment further.

He endorsed an Italian plan for a high-level study of the China question—rejected by Peking as "absurd"—but declared that the proposal should spell out more specifically a set of guidelines to be followed in seeking a solution to the 16-year stalemate.

Red China today restated its terms for joining the United Nations: expel Nationalist China and end U.S.-Soviet domination of the world organization. They underlined the prospect that the Peking regime won't get in for a long time.

The Peking broadcast described the resolution as a trap to permit Nationalist China to remain in the organization and as a U.S. device to make it appear Peking has chosen to isolate itself from the United Nations.

Both the Nationalists and the Communists are opposed to the two-China policy.

The Soviet Union rejected the Italian proposal this week but gave only lukewarm support to the argument that Peking alone has the right to represent China.

Car Taken

San Rafael police were told yesterday by William F. Goetz, 509 Canal Street, that someone stole his 1966 two-door car from in front of his home during the night.

Congressman Again Skips Jailing Date

NEW YORK (AP)—The time for Rep. Adam Clayton Powell to surrender for a 30-day jail sentence came around today, but the Harlem congressman didn't.

No one appeared surprised. Powell also has ignored directives in three other contempt of court convictions, and was reported sailing in the Bahamas aboard his yacht, Adam's Folly.

At 10:30 a.m. today, a special deputy clerk stood up in Supreme Court and called out Powell's name. A deputy sheriff stood by.

Silence confronted the officials. Neither Powell nor his attorneys were present.

The clerk noted the default, and that left it up to the attorneys for a Harlem widow who won a libel judgment against the New York Democrat to ask the Supreme Court to issue an arrest warrant for Powell.

Moon Pictures Being Pondered

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Lunar Orbiter 2 has photographed some features on the moon's face that scientists refuse to speculate about.

Pictures made public yesterday by the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here show protuberances rising like stalagmites 40 to 75 feet, scientists say. The scientists said the pictures indicate a diameter of about 50 feet at the base of the protuberances, but they declined further comment.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the space camera— orbiting every three hours, 28 minutes and swooping within 25 miles of the moon—has scanned eight of 13 potential astronaut landing sites. The last of 422 pictures is to be snapped Friday.

Airman Fined $230 For Drunken Driving

Sgt. Jimmy Dale Jordan of 1080 Banta Court, Hamilton Air Force Base, has been fined $230 and placed on a year's probation in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Sergeant Jordan, 33, was arrested Nov. 15 by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101.

Signs Facing Ax In Mill Valley

Illegal signs in Mill Valley will be taken down next week by city crews at expense of the sign owners, Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon said today.

The order is aimed at "those signs whose owners have indicated that they are not going to voluntarily comply with the provisions of the sign ordinance," he said. Fifteen to 20 signs are involved.

Owners of illegal signs were notified three months ago to remove their signs. The sign ordinance, adopted in 1958, allowed non-conforming signs to stay up for five years, Bragdon explained.
